SOMETHING NEW IN COMIC STRIPS BEGINS TODAY

A fascinating new comic strip of science adventure, "Jet-Scott," starts in the Times today. Instead of the weird and unworldly space trips of other science strips, this one deals factually with actual instruments and discoveries that have already been made by the world's great scientists. Start "Jet-Scott" on Page 16 today. Another new Times feature "Fun With Figures," is on Page 5.

Churchill to Stick Prime Minister Post

Illness Never Made Him Relinquish Work
PM Says in Reply to Bevan's Demand He Quit

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued a special statement today asserting that he has carried on with his job ever since he became ill last June and indicating that he intends to remain in office for the foreseeable future.

Churchill emphasized that he has never backed down from his call for a meeting of Big Four chiefs of state on world issues—a meeting which, he is known to feel, might crown his long career by lessening West-East tension.

Churchill's statement followed a demand made by Labor leader Aneurin Bevan Sunday night at Margate, demanding that if Churchill "is unable to do his duty, he should resign." Churchill's statement was issued at No. 10 Downing Street, his official residence, on his order sent from the Riviera, where he is ending a vacation after the rest his physicians urged him to take last June 27.

Churchill has not "ceased at any time to hold and exercise the responsibility" belonging to the office of prime minister, the statement said. While he has been vacationing abroad, it added, he has been "consulted on every decision of policy and is in full agreement with what is being done in the circumstances which prevail."

DUE TO PESSIMISM
The immediate occasion for Churchill's statement was a speech made Saturday by Labor member of the House of Commons Tom O'Brien, after returning from a Riviera talk with the prime minister.

O'Brien said the cancellation of western chiefs of state, for which Churchill was to sail at the time he became ill, was due not so much to the illness as to the "intolerable pessimism" of his own advisers and American reluctance.

Churchill's statement said his conversation with O'Brien must remain private. But, it emphasized, "the minister has in no way changed his mind about the proposals contained in his speech of May 11." In this speech, he urged a Big Four conference.

READY FOR MOSCOW
NEWCASTLE—ON—TYNE (AP)—A top British labor leader who had lunch with Prime Minister Churchill a few days ago said Saturday night that Churchill is "quite ready to go even to Moscow" in his quest for peace.

Tom O'Brien, past president of the Trade Union Congress—central body of British labor movement—and a moderate Labor member of parliament told a labor union meeting:

"I can assure the British people that the prime minister has not dropped his plans for his four-power talk, he will not drop them, and he intends vigorously to pursue them, and he is quite ready to go even to Moscow. But he cannot battle against American reluctance on the one hand and Russian reluctance on the other alone."

The plane disappeared on a flight from Burtonwood, England, to Barcelona, Spain. It was scheduled to pick up an American baseball team and basketball team that had been playing exhibition games in Spain.

Rescuers reported that it was shattered in hitting the peak in the desolate Pyrenees that form the border between France and Spain.

FIRST FALL STORM DOES LITTLE HARM

Victoria Escapes Main Gale; Power Breaks Suffered in Vancouver, U.S. Coastal Points

Victoria's first autumn storm Sunday spilled more water on parched gardens than had fallen in the previous 13 weeks, but otherwise did little damage.

The downpour was followed by a wind that reached a peak of 48 miles an hour between midnight and 1 a.m. today, and up to 54 miles an hour in gusts.

A total of 1.10 inches of rain fell between 4 a.m. Sunday and 4 a.m. today, according to weatherman William Mackie.

Between July 1 and Sept. 26, the rainfall total was 1.07 inches, he said.

Most of the rain occurred between 7:30 and 9:30 Sunday evening.

VANCOUVER HIT
VANCOUVER (CP)—The winter season's first wind and rain storm hit the Lower Mainland Sunday, disrupting power facilities and bus schedules.

The storm, coming on the heels of day-long rains, caused power failures from West Vancouver to upper valley points.

A falling tree broke a power cable in the Glen Eagles district of West Vancouver.

Fourteen repair crews of the B.C. Electric Company worked to restore lines throughout Vancouver late Sunday.

Traffic police were busy during the storm as several traffic lights were blown down and trees and fences were strewn on streets.

BOATS SWAMPED
SEATTLE (AP)—A storm with winds up to 50 miles an hour lashed most of western Washington State Sunday night, toppling telephone lines and trees and swamping two fishing boats.

The Nada went down near the mouth of the Elwha River on the Olympic Peninsula. Her owner, Tom Brathun, the only man aboard, was taken off safely.

Lester A. Fairbrother, Port Angeles, Wash., was taken off his salmon trawler when it foundered near the Swiftsure lightship at the entrance to Puget Sound.

In Seattle, city light officials backed every available man on the job to repair downed poles and wires. Whole sections of the city were blacked out when winds ripped down a number of 4,400-volt feeder lines.

Tracks Mined Near Nelson, Say RCMP
NELSON, B.C. (BUP)—Thirty-one sticks of dynamite, believed planted by Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, were found at Taghum, near here, Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today.

Some 14 sticks were found under railway tracks by three youths and another 17 sticks were found near a power pole in an open field nearby.

35 Violent Deaths Recorded in Canada
TORONTO (CP)—Thirty-five violent deaths were reported throughout Canada during the week-end, 11 of them occurring in Ontario, nine in Quebec province, 10 on the prairies and five in B.C.

SIU STRIKES DEEPSEA SHIPPING

Island Inter-Coastal Service Will Cease

MONTREAL (CP)—Members of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TLC), went on strike at noon today on Canadian deepsea ships.

There was no trouble reported as crews walked off two ships in Montreal.

Capt. J. E. Matheson, superintendent of the Shipping Federation of Canada, said there are six flag ships in the Gulf of St. Lawrence which will be affected. About 30 ships in all will be affected.

The shipping federation was notified of the strike deadline Friday and a meeting held Sunday failed to settle the dispute.

Capt. Matheson said he does not know whether Canadian flag ships in foreign ports will be affected.

Shipping federation and union spokesmen declined to give details of the dispute.

AVERTED A WEEK AGO
Just a week ago a dispute between the SIU and four Canadian lake shipping companies was settled and a strike averted.

The settlement was made by Arthur MacNamara, former deputy minister of labor, appointed a special mediator in the dispute.

The companies involved were Colonial Steamship Lines, Canada Steamship Lines, N. M. Paterson and Sons, and Upper Lake and St. Lawrence Transportation Ltd.

No Canadian ships manned by SIU crews are in Vancouver Island ports today.

Main effect of the strike on Island ports will be the cessation of Saguenay terminals inter-coastal service, which has been operating on a fortnightly basis for the past year.

NEWS BRIEFS
First B.C. Snow
EDMONTON (CP)—The first substantial snowfall of the season in western Canada was reported today in the British Columbia section of the Peace River basin.

Calgary Murder Trial
CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—Robert R. Yockety, 17, was scheduled to appear in the Supreme Court today charged with the knife murder of a youth his own age last May 12.

Police said Yockety killed Brian Snell in a fight over a girl.

Drops 13 Storeys
NEW YORK (AP)—Ignoring pleas not to jump, a middle-aged woman hurtled 13 storeys to death today from a fashionable midtown apartment house.

Ottawa Considers Additional Jail Quarters for Douks
VANCOUVER (CP)—Building of additional quarters at B.C. penitentiary to accommodate Sons of Freedom Doukhobors was reported today to be under consideration in Ottawa.

However, no decision was likely until after Friday, when 69 nude paraders remanded until then for probationary reports, learn their fate.

So far, 45 Sons have been sentenced to three years in penitentiary. Of these, 35 are men destined to the B.C. institution and 10 are women who will go to Kingston, Ont.

Under federal law, only one prisoner is allowed in each cell of a federal institution and the B.C. penitentiary already has 530 of its 550 cells filled.

U.K. Paper Scolds Ava for Making Eyes at Sentry
LONDON (Reuters)—The Daily Mail today scolded movie actress Ava Gardner for giving the glad eye to a scarlet-coated sentry on guard at the Tower of London.

Commenting on a newspaper photo showing Ava and the soldier, the Mail says her "obvious intention was to disturb the soldier's composure."

Had the sentry moved from his rock-like stance or batted an eyelid at the glamorous star he would have been hauled off to the guardhouse.

"Did she not know he was doing his job, and a very difficult one, too?" asked the Mail.

"What would she say if some intruder pranced up and gave her the 'glad eye' during a trying sequence on the set?"

"The episode was a breach of good sense and good manners."

OL' VIC SAYS
M' Uncle Zeke's wife lives frugal. Sez they jest ain't a three-garbage-can family.

It's comfortin' I feel a gun under yer pillow when y' hear a strange noise downstairs—like rememberin' y' hev a free vote when y' hear M.L.A.'s talkin' about how they'd like I' MAKE y' do this an' that.

U.K.-Egypt Agreement on Suez Reported
CAIRO (CP)—A high Egyptian official said today that Egypt and Britain "have reached agreement in principle" providing for the evacuation of the strategic British Suez base within 18 months.

The informant said the last major hurdle was overcome when Britain accepted Egypt's demand that the huge base become available to Britain and the West in the future only "in case of attack on or war against one of the Arab states."

These would include the eight members of the Arab League—Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen and Libya.

The source said minor points still to be thrashed out are the periods during which the British experts are to remain in the base.

The informant gave the following outline of the points agreed upon:

1. British troops, estimated to number 80,000, will evacuate the base within a period of 18 months from the signing of the agreement.

2. Some 4,000 British experts will remain in the base for three years following the 18-month period. They will be under the command of the Egyptian Army commander-in-chief, who will be assisted by a British adviser.

3. Britain will not remove any equipment from or dismantle any installation in the base during the whole period in which the experts remain.

Points of disagreement were listed as:

1. Britain wants to keep 3,000 experts for 2½ years after the three-year period already agreed upon, making a total period of continued British presence of seven years.

Egypt wants "a few hundred experts only" to remain in the base after the three-year period for an additional 1½ years, a total occupation period of six years.

2. Britain wants her experts to wear uniforms. Egypt insists they must wear civilian clothes.

The informant warned that this last point could jeopardize the whole outcome of the present talks.

QUEEN'S PLANE 'TALKED DOWN' THROUGH FOG

LONDON (AP)—The Queen flew back to fog and rain-swept London Sunday from her summer holiday in Scotland.

Her twin-engined Silver Viking was brought down to the airport by ground control approach. The craft's movements were watched on a radar screen and her pilot talked down through the overcast to the runway approach.

Large crowds braved the rain to cheer the Queen who arrived after the worst of a heavy fog had cleared.

The Queen returned to deal with details of preparations for the forthcoming Commonwealth tour which she will undertake with the Duke of Edinburgh. Other members of the Royal Family are still in Balmoral Castle.

SIX ESCAPE 'LOOKOUT' BLAZE; Landmark Burned to Ground
Five persons escaped without injury, and an aged man was rescued by two passing motorists, when fire, followed by an explosion, destroyed the Island Highway's well-known Malahat Lookout early Sunday.

Bart Fletcher, proprietor, and five members of his family and staff scrambled or were pulled through windows to safety before the furiously blazing building collapsed and gas storage tanks blew up and hurtled through the walls.

Louis Holker, 2535 Killarney, and Eric Driver, delivery man for Page the Cleaner Ltd., both of Victoria, are credited with saving the life of 88-year-old Frank Braine. The man was sleeping in the service station adjoining the main property. It, too, was destroyed.

Mr. Braine, father of the wife of the proprietor, was still inside the service station when gasoline hoses connected to a pair of pumps exploded from the intense heat. Mr. Holker and Mr. Driver, who had been driving past the fire scene and who stopped when they saw the flames, learned Mr. Braine was still in danger.

Without hesitation they dived through the fire and into the quarters Mr. Braine occupied. They brought him out.

Other passing motorists stopped. Some of them broke down the doors of the garage and rolled out the Fletcher car.

John Dayton, who was a companion of Mr. Holker and the two Holker boys, raced by automobile to find a telephone to give the long-delayed alarm.

Meanwhile, Mr. Driver had fought his way through choking smoke to the Lookout telephone. The connection was burned out from the time of its discovery.

Before he could make his call, "He certainly had grit, going in there," Mr. Holker said.

Fire Discovered at 2.05 a.m.
Mr. Fletcher said he discovered the fire at about 2.05 a.m. He roused Mrs. Fletcher, Miss Arlene Fortin, a waitress, and Miss Eleanor Onda, the cook.

Then he raced to an adjoining cabin to warn his 16-year-old son.

Another waitress, Miss Yvette Genereux, was away at the time.

Smoke was so thick, Mr. Fletcher said, it was almost impossible to save anything from the main building or even to reach the telephone to call for aid.

"Everything I own is gone," he said.

He estimated his loss at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Fletcher only took over the Malahat operation 10 months ago, on his arrival here from Australia.

A dog, a budgie bird and a gold fish were carried to safety by passers-by and the household cat, thought to have perished, appeared later, singed and scared, but otherwise unharmed.

RCMP constable Cliff Barringer told how Holker and a companion, returning to Victoria from Nanaimo, fought their way into the garage to rescue the aged man.

Mr. Fletcher was still at the scene long after daybreak Sunday. He stayed to warn sightseers from the vicinity of unexploded gasoline storage tanks.

Smoke still poured from the ruins. All that remains are several brick chimneys and the front porch.

Cash, Liquor Stolen From Trail Golf Club
TRAIL (CP)—Burglars escaped with between $500 and $600 in cash and 16 bottles of liquor early today in a break-in at Rossland-Trail Golf Club here.

RCMP said the safe was recovered on the golf course. It had been "expertly punched."

Vancouver Polio Death
VANCOUVER (CP)—City health authorities today reported Vancouver's first polio death; a 3-year-old boy from the Grandview district.

Heavy Damage In Two Fires At Vancouver

Rope Factory,
Apartments Gutted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Damage was estimated at over $300,000 in an industrial fire and an apartment house blaze which broke out very near to each other here Saturday.

The worst fire was at Wright's Canadian Ropes on congested Granville Island. It sent black creosote smoke curling over the city's industrial district as the plant was gutted.

Workmen high atop the new Granville Bridge, in construction almost directly over the scene of the Wright fire, said the premises seemed to explode and fold inward from the top.

Stored in the building was a supply of tar-impregnated oakum and barrels of oil used in the making of ropes and cables.

Twenty-five persons fled the nearby apartment fire and two stayed behind.

The two were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kidd, who live on the ground floor. Mr. Kidd was ill with pneumonia and a doctor treated him while smoke poured through the apartment and staircases were turned into waterfalls.

UN Accuses PW Team Of Red Propaganda

Neutral Commission Held Responsible
For 'Slanting' Letter to 22,600 Prisoners

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The United Nations command today accused the neutral prisoner repatriation commission of circulating a Red-slanted letter among 22,600 Korean war prisoners who have refused to return to the UN.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, chief of the UN command repatriation group, cited a letter he said the neutral commission distributed to the prisoners on Saturday.

As Allied spokesman said the letter was clearly of Chinese Communist origin and immediately was recognized by "shocked" anti-Red Chinese PWs as propaganda aimed at persuading them to go home.

The neutral commission's official spokesman declined comment.

UN to Hear Indian On Korea Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United Nations General Assembly winds up general debate today with a feature speech by an Indian delegate who was expected to plead for a compromise that would get the Korean peace conference started on its target date, Oct. 28.

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna was scheduled to make a policy speech at the afternoon session. Krishna was author of the compromise formula that broke the deadlock in the true negotiations over repatriation of prisoners of war.

LONGSHOREMEN TENDER AFL ULTIMATUM

NEW YORK (UP)—The orphaned International Longshoremen's Association handed the AFL an ultimatum today that may lay the battle-line for an all-out union "war" involving 60,000 Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock workers.

The ILA, ousted from the AFL for tolerating gangsterism and corruption in its ranks, served notice its members would refuse to load or unload any ship manned by AFL seamen if the AFL went ahead with plans to organize a rival union of longshoremen.

The AFL organizers made their first target the Brooklyn waterfront, traditional sore spot of hoodlum rule and union racketeering. Law enforcement officials were mobilizing for what they feared would be an outbreak of terrorism and violence.

Australian Envoy Holds Conferences With Top Canadians

OTTAWA (BUP)—R. G. Casey, Australian external affairs minister, today started a round of conferences with cabinet ministers and government officials.

Casey flew here Sunday for a four-day visit aimed at renewing his "personal association with members of the Canadian cabinet."

After a press conference in the parliamentary press gallery this morning he will be entertained at lunch by External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson.

Talks with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other cabinet ministers were expected to touch on the Anzus Pacific security pact, the Colombo plan and the legal position of Commonwealth forces in Japan.

May Oppose U.S. Economic Aid to Spain

Warning Sounded
By Georgia Senator

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration will ask Congress for new millions in military and economic aid for Spain to follow up the Spanish bases agreement signed Saturday, officials predicted today.

They privately estimated that about half a billion dollars will be spent in the next few years to supply America's new western defense partner with arms and economic help.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), an influential member of both the Senate armed services and appropriations committees, sounded a warning, however.

He said he was against the extension of any more economic aid to anyone and predicted that a proposal calling for this would meet strong opposition in Congress.

There is need for continuing military assistance under the foreign aid program, Russell said, but the time has come to end direct economic aid.

ENDICOTT CALLED 'CANADIAN JUDAS'

Fist Fights Break Out At Toronto Peace Rally

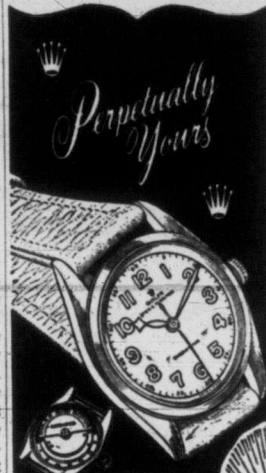

TORONTO (CP)—A peace rally at Massey Hall Sunday night was interrupted by scuffles and fist fights when an anti-Communist group in the balcony showered leaflets over the auditorium.

Dr. James G. Endicott, president of the Canadian Peace Congress and principal speaker, was in the midst of his speech when about 20 men in the front row of the balcony suddenly stood up and loosed the paper snowstorm. They immediately moved to leave, but on the way got into several scuffles as ushers attempted to speed them along.

The pamphlets identified the men as members of the Association for the Liberation of the Ukraine in Canada. Native of that part of Russia, they are dedicated to delivering their homeland from Communist rule.

Endicott spoke on the theme that the only road to world peace lies in negotiation. The leaflets called on the free nations to present a united front against Russia and her Communist friends.

They also mentioned Endicott's $50,000 Stalin Peace Prize and said he received his instructions from Moscow.

IN THE HOUSE

Criticism of the B.C. Telephone Company by MLA's has some officials on the jump.

One high-ranking official has been spending some time with the members presenting the "other side" of the question.

Three MLA's, two of the government backbenchers, have tied off on the utility since the House opened. High rates and allegedly inadequate service are the main complaints of the legislators.

Sid Smith, president of the B.C. Liberal Association, has been taking treatment at Mayo Brothers at Rochester.

His condition is reported satisfactory.

Weekly talks by members of the provincial political parties resume their winter schedule tonight over CBU at 10.15.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner starts the series with a talk on B.C.'s Doukhobors.

The allocation of free time among the qualifying parties has been arranged as follows:

Social Credit, 13 periods; CCF, 8 periods; Liberal, 7 periods; Progressive Conservative, 6 periods; and Labor Progressive party, 4 periods.

Representatives of B.C. Chambers of Commerce will meet the provincial cabinet Friday morning to protest removal of the alternative voting system.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Bruce Brown (Lib. Prince Rupert) are the only lawyers in the House.

Members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club are anxious to hear the debate on the government's proposal to pass an "equal pay for equal work" for women act.

The club, and its national parent organization, has been fighting for the legislation for years.

There's not likely to be very much debate, however, because most of the legislators agree

It's not what you earn but what you save that contributes to your future financial security!

Every young man and woman should permanently save at least 10% of their incomes (after taxes are deducted).

Here is how a young person now Age 21 can profitably save $100.00-a-year through The Excelsior Life "THRIFT PLAN".

1 Annual Premium Deposit for 20 consecutive years ($100.00 x 20) $2,000.00

2 Amount payable upon reaching Age 65 (policy anniversary) $3,230.00

3 Amount payable to family in event of death before Age 65 $3,230.00

4 If unable to continue annual investment after 10 years (for example) you could stop right there, receive a PAID-UP THRIFT PLAN for $1,500.00 Payable at Age 65 or at death (if prior), as well as having provided $3,230.00 of insurance protection for the 10 years, plus having received policy dividends for ten years—all for a total investment of $1,000.00 in premiums!

These figures are guaranteed values—in addition, policy dividends will be paid at the end of each five-year period during the term of policy.

★ It's still smart to be thrifty!!!

The alert young man and woman buys life insurance heavily while young—it is the ONE investment with a "bargain tag" in favor of youth!

Elderly Sidney Friends Killed In U.S. Accident

Hit Logging Truck On Hillside Turn

Two elderly Sidney men died almost instantly Saturday morning in a car-truck collision near Langlois, Ore., on U.S. Highway 101.

They were Thomas J. Pilkington, 67, who lived at "Eureka" on the Patricia Bay Highway, and Joseph Arthur Nunn, about 75, of Graham Avenue, Sidney.

The two men, returning from a month's holiday in California, apparently attempted to pass a truck while driving uphill. While passing, a heavily-loaded logging truck came from around a curve immediately in front, and hit their small car head-on.

The Sanich men died minutes after the collision.

A police officer who investigated said "we have quite a few accidents on that curve, usually involving strangers."

Neither truck driver was injured, and charges will not be laid, police said.

Mr. Nunn, well known member of North Sanich agricultural and horticultural societies, had lived in Sidney since 1913. A retired gardener, he had been a member of the school board.

Mr. Pilkington was a former Vancouver blacksmith who had lived in the district some years.

Hundreds of Soviet Police Said Escaping

BERLIN (UP) — Nobody loves a policeman in Communist East Germany and, from private commissars, hundreds of Soviet zone police are crossing into West Berlin to seek political asylum.

Some 390 have slipped through the Iron Curtain thus far this month. Last month, the total was 491.

The mass desertions, in the opinion of Allied officials, prove that the Communist grip on the Soviet zone is so weak that the Reds cannot even rely on their German police.

TORONTO (BUP) — More than 1,000 Canadians moved to Israel during the last five years and have become some of that country's "most useful citizens," Michael Comay, Israel's first minister to Canada, said Sunday.

Canadians "are immeasurably valuable in our country," he said. "Their superior education and business experience has classed them among Israel's most useful citizens."

CCL HEAD FAVORS PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF UTILITIES

MONTREAL (CP)—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said today he favors public ownership of all public utilities.

In a speech prepared for the opening session of the fifth annual convention of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO-CCL), Mr. Mosher said he believes "exploitation of our natural resources" should be in the hands of publicly-owned bodies.

He said there are "just two groups of people—those who are in favor of public ownership and those who are opposed to the public getting what properly belongs to it."

Instead of referring to public and private ownership, it would be better to talk of "anti-public ownership."

Winter Travel Schedules Back on Standard Time

Winter travel schedules, based on standard time, are now being operated by all transportation companies on Vancouver Island.

Major changes are on the Victoria to Vancouver and Port Angeles runs. CP steamships now leave Victoria for Vancouver daily at 2:30 p.m. and 11:59 p.m., and the CPR has removed its ships from the Port Angeles run for the winter months.

The same company has also reduced its Vancouver-Nanaimo service.

Black Ball ferries to Port Angeles have been reduced from four round trips daily to two, but the full Port Angeles-Horseshoe Bay (West Vancouver) line is being maintained.

No changes will be made in TCA flights to the mainland and Seattle.

Complete travel schedules follow:

LONDON (Reuters)—Hawker Siddeley, makers of the supersonic Hunter jet-fighter, has announced that it will make another bid to capture the world air-speed record—probably in California.

The Hunter was the jet flown by Sqdn. Ldr. Neville Duke when he recently set an unofficial speed record of 727.3 mph, surpassed Friday by Lieut.-Cmdr. Michael Lithgow when he flew his supermarine Swift over the Libyan desert at 737.7 mph.

Duke was originally scheduled to make his new speed bid in Libya, but the intense heat upset the delicate instruments in the Swift, which is believed to have led to the decision of Hawker Siddeley to send Duke to California.

CBC Approves TV Licenses For Five New Stations

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors today recommended that the government license television stations in Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Kingston and Kitchener, Ont.

The board also recommended, following public hearings in Winnipeg last week, that new radio stations be licensed in Brampton, Ont., and Montmagny, Three Rivers and Chocoma, Que.

The board picked Sunwapa Broadcasting Company Limited, operators of radio station CFRN, for approval of a television license in Edmonton. The company was one of three which applied for a license on Channel 3.

The two other Edmonton applications which the board recommended for denial came from William Rae Jr., operator of radio station CKNW, New Westminster, B.C., and Edmonton radio stations CHED and CJCA.

More than Potatoes

THE REACTION OF MR. KIERNAN, provincial minister of agriculture, to the immediate problems of British Columbia potato growers is the reaction of the convinced Social Credit. As a believer in Social Credit, Mr. Kiernan must be an outright protectionist, beside whom the Conservative party looks like an old-fashioned free-trader. Since potato prices have fallen, Mr. Kiernan would prevent imports from the United States. He would hold up prices to the consumer by limiting the supply.

Mr. Kiernan argues that our tariffs on potatoes are not as effective as the American tariff. The rate of $7.50 a ton, he says, is the same in both countries, but in Canada it is imposed for only six weeks while in the United States it remains throughout the year. Therefore, he argues, there is no "reciprocal" trade. The bargain is one-sided. We must retaliate against American imports.

Mr. Kiernan seems to forget that potatoes, however important they may be to some producers in British Columbia, are an exceedingly small item in the huge tide of trade flowing across the 49th parallel. He admits but seems to disregard the fact that in most years Canada ships more potatoes to the United States than it buys there. And he ignores the much larger fact that the United States is buying the largest part of all Canada's exports, that our whole national economy (especially the economy of British Columbia) is based on an abundant American market.

It is true that in total we sell less to the United States than we buy there. That has been so for half a century or more. Our trade deficit with the United States has been more than covered by our surpluses in trade elsewhere. In the result, Canada's total trade, wealth and employment have expanded on a scale equaled by few or no other nations.

The Wages of Office

THE ESTATE LEFT BY THE late Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Fred M. Vinson, and the comment passed upon it by his friend, Senator Walter F. George, draw attention to the fact that long service in public office, provided conscientiously by an incumbent, is too often materially unrewarding.

The Chief Justice reportedly left a mere $1,163 free of encumbrances. Only those close to him may know how Mr. Vinson managed his affairs. He found it necessary, as his attorney has pointed out, to maintain the position expected of the Chief Justice and in doing so had little left from the $25,000 a year salary paid to him.

The financial straits of the late Chief Justice may be an exaggeration of the condition in which many public figures find themselves, but it is indicative.

The point is frequently raised, for instance, that the President of the United States is in a poor position to make provision for his years of retirement because his allowance is taken up by commitments and obligations thrust upon him as the President. Mr. Truman's experience provides an impressive example. The former occupant of the White House may expect to live comfortably from writing assignments he has undertaken. He will not live in luxury from the money he saved as President.

A similar situation exists to a marked degree among Canada's public figures. Though they appear to receive substantial compensation for the posts they fill, they, too, are subject to unusual drains on their income. The plain fact is that public life is not highly profitable if undertaken with a view to making or saving money.

That is a point to remember when salary increases are voted for members of public and official bodies. Such increases are obviously not the "grabs" some critics profess them to be.

Ounce of Prevention

THE FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRY of British Columbia this week is observing Safety Week. While many organized "weeks" have the objective of encouraging sales or consumption of goods, this particular observance is dedicated to the prevention of injury and saving of lives.

That it can be effective has been proved. In 1951 there was an average of 25 accidents each week; during Safety Week the number dropped to four. In 1952 the week again saw only four accidents, compared with the year's average of 19.

Apart from the results of the extra efforts during Safety Week, it will be noted that the annual average of accidents showed a substantial decrease. This was true of sawmills during the whole period from 1948 to 1952, which registered a reduction of 75 per cent. The same period saw a 51 per cent decrease in accidents in logging operations, as the direct result of the establishment of full-time safety departments.

It is unnecessary to stress the benefit which accrues from such progress. The workers themselves, their dependents, the buying public, and the employers all gain from a decrease in industrial accidents and deaths.

The current week affords an opportunity for the public to learn what is being done in the forest products industry in promoting safety, to note the co-operation of operators, employees and government in combating accidents, and to study how such measures may be applied to their own advantage in domestic or industrial life.

A Song's a Song for A' That

SCIENCE AND THE ARTS HAVE long proved themselves to be unconfined by national boundaries. Except where scientific progress involves military secrets, it has been the fashion for experts to share and pool their hard-won knowledge.

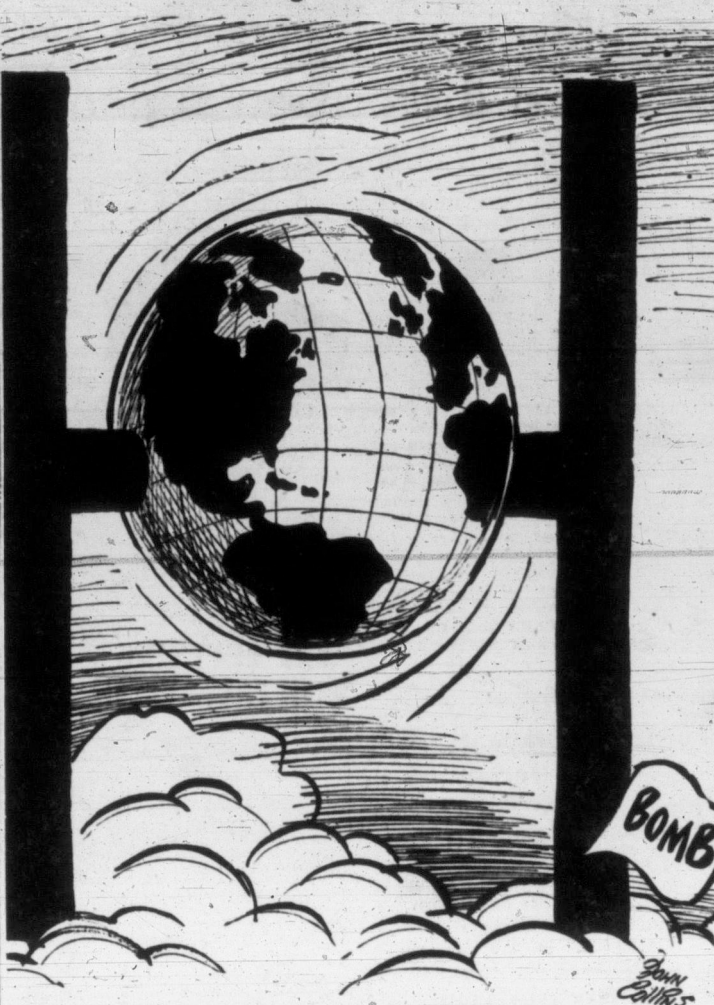

Astronomers, for instance, enlist the aid of conferees throughout the globe in furthering their studies of the heavens. And the arts, whether in music, painting, sculpture or drama, traditionally have recognized no man-made bounds.

There should, therefore, be little raising of the eyebrows when we read that a Japanese girl born in Cumberland, V.I., and caught while on a trip to Japan by the onset of war, should have been able to persuade Tokyo audiences that her Japanese language rendering of Annie Laurie, Comin' Through the Rye, and other songs of the then hated western civilization were in reality the folksongs of Japan's ally Italy.

Obviously, the problem of the Japanese to distinguish between Scots and Italian would be much more difficult than that of a Scot separating Italian airs from those of Nippon. Indeed, Annie Laurie in Japanese might well sound more Italian than Scottish, and Robbie Burns would be the first to admit it.

Revolving on a New Axis

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

WANTING a good excuse never to eat rhubarb again, I looked the stuff up in an encyclopedia. To my everlasting delight, I find that eating this Asiatic weed is merely a whim of the last 100 years, and hasn't even any basis in custom, let alone reason. Further, it contains great amounts of oxalic acid, the harmful substance in spinach. In fact, its leaves contain so much that they have sometimes killed people.

You can't kill yourself with the stalks, but you can play the devil with your obsession of calcium (as with spinach, only worse). Hooray, hooray, hooray.

TEDIOUS UNDERFOOT

I WAS listening to a concert of "modern" or "contemporary" music. (Both those fashionable adjectives are misleading at best, and meaningless at worst, but what other can I use? "Progressive" music?) They say that if pain grows bad enough, kind Nature will let you faint. But this is not always so. I was in a little hell of boredom, yet I couldn't faint. At half-time I was trying to stupefy myself with tobacco, and a pal asked me what I thought of the program, and I told her, and she agreed the music was quite devoid of passion, invention, importance and even strangeness.

"But don't you think," she said, "that this music is perhaps paving the way to the future?"

"Pavement?" said I. "Pavement is right. It sounds very like paving-stones. But I prefer walking on turf."

SOMETHING WRONG

TALKING of the deadly monotony of discords introduced for no other purpose than to avoid monotony, my eight-year-old daughter switched on the radio one evening during the summer, and found herself in the middle of one of the feeblest and more disembodying choruses of Benjamin Britten's new opera, "Gloriana." It sounded very like some cantankerous ghosts holding an indignation meeting. It just wailed around the old boneyard without getting anywhere much. The little girl listened in horror for a few bars and then came running to fetch me. "O Lordy, Dad, come quick. I must have bust the radio." A pardonable mistake.

OFF TO A GOOD START

I SUPPOSE nobody is allowed to joke about Stravinsky (or Strawinsky), now that he is practically the Grand Old Man of Respectability and a quiet old relic of a charming age. But I confess I laughed like a drain. I did, laughed my self black in the face, to read the other day how the boy Stravinsky first took an interest in music. Until a surprisingly advanced age in early youth, this genius could take music or leave it alone (just like me), so he left it alone. But one day he met an old, old peasant right bang in the middle of the landscape, and this peasant could play rough tunes by squashing air between his biceps and his ribs, or a bit further up. It must have been an oddly-shaped peasant. But at any rate, this source of Stravinsky's inspiration explains a lot, or all. Or does to some of us.

CASING THE JOINT

BY THE WAY, Stravinsky once told Picasso and Diaghilev that he always sized up a new town by entering its lowest dens of vice. They were a little shocked, and asked what his children would think. He said his children weren't so silly as to make any nasty mystery about Nature. After all, he had taken them to many a farm, hadn't he? I'm afraid the subtlety of this argument baffles me. Would a farm boy, or even a horse, find the underworld completely natural? (I am not alluding to Mr. Runyon's Harry the Horse.) And would members of the underworld see any difference between two cities?

FICTION MADE BY HAND

ONE great advantage of being tidy is that it gives you every excuse to read other people's letters, to see if they should be thrown out or not, and to snoop around generally in the interests of beauty and duty. And thus we have my family much more eager to tidy up my notebook and chequebook than to tidy up my old socks and ash trays. The other day I was tidying up the desk of my older boy, aged 11, and while not exactly snooping, I was eager to re-possess my stapling machine, my mullage, seven or eight of my pencils, odd bits of my fishing tackle, and so on.

AND suddenly I came across this document: "The Riddle of a Gun in a Foxhole By J.B. (Jokes Boaring)." A gun in a foxhole, a common sight to a soldier. But a foxhole leads a wonderful life serving friends and foes, Comrades, and U.S.

That was all I take it that the narrative is to be continued, for otherwise it would be a mere sketch, a New Yorker short story with the end chopped off and nothing much happening. But even as it stands, it is most suggestive. It suggests, among other things, that our young, imagine the only warriors today are American or Red. It also suggests that I haven't burnt so many comics as I thought I had. I haven't looked under his mattress yet.

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

Sept. 28, 1893—Beacon Hill Park strollers saw the Corrig College cadets "fall in" yesterday afternoon on the drill ground opposite the college and receive their first instructions in military deportment and evolution from Mr. St. Clair.

Sept. 28, 1913—Building of the new provincial jail at Wilkinson Road is now sufficiently advanced to give an impression of the general design.

Sept. 28, 1933—The second gale of the autumn swept over Victoria last night, putting out of operation some telephones and electric light services and damaging fences and flower gardens.

As Our Readers See It

THE REAL NEED

The present Social Credit Government has a large majority. It is in a very strong position to do good work. Will the size of its majority equal its greatness of heart? The Social Credit party before the last election expressed its intention of abolishing the Sales Tax. As a very small, but welcome step, in this direction exemption on restaurant meals is now to be raised from the present 50 cents to $1.00. A move every-one will warmly support.

But why not exempt all purchases under $1.00 from the sales tax. At one stroke a great burden would be lifted from the small purchases of our children, the aged and all those people on small wages or salaries or living on fixed incomes, such as pensions, annuities, bonds, etc.

Again and again it has been pointed out how unfair it is to impose, on a small purchase of say 15 cents, a sales tax of 1 cent which is of course at a far higher rate than the 3 per cent laid down in the Sales Tax Act. This injustice bears down exactly on the people least able to afford it. Why not give them a break? All retailers and government bookkeeping in relation to the Sales Tax would be immensely simplified if the tax started only after $1.

Also in the case of small retailers who never give us a Sales Tax ticket there would be much less likelihood of some of the tax going into private pockets than at present, for who can say whether one or two small articles were sold together or separately? In one case they are taxable in the other they are not.

Common justice says let the Sales Tax start on purchases of $1. Has this new government the vision, courage and generosity to do it?

JOHN KENNY.

P.O. Box 902, Victoria, B.C.

DISGUSTED

Being of the opinion that the responsibilities of citizenship include an active interest in what our governments are doing or planning to do, I attended Friday afternoon's session of the provincial legislature in company with several women friends. The first speaker on the agenda was Thomas Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, who certainly did nothing to enhance the dignity or prestige of the House. He rambled on and on, interlarding his few serious remarks with such disgusting "jokes" as to elicit audible expressions of embarrassment among most of his fellow members. Surely such an affront to the decency and intelligence of those who take the time to come to hear the debates should not be allowed to pass unchallenged by the Speaker. Or are we to assume that the license taken by the member for Fernie is a criterion of what is to be accepted from members of the Legislature under the new regime?

EVELYN B. CORNWALL.

NUDE AND HALF-NUDE

Please allow a few lines in your worthwhile newspaper regarding the remarks made by Nimsick MLA regarding the prosecution of the Doukhobors. The charge is parading in the nude, thereby contributing to juvenile delinquency.

If the facts were fully explored I believe that parading in semi-nude at our beaches contributes more towards juvenile delinquency than those Douks parading in the nude.

Why the Douks parade in the nude has never been fully explained. Is it a religious rite, or is it just orneryness, or what is it really for?

Would like a sane answer to this question.

E.G.C.

NO BOUNCE

Reading of the first issue of the "B.C. Government News" is heavy going for the "News" is burdened with dry statistics and out-of-date material.

The vitality and happy, breezy spirit of previous publications, which the "B.C. Government News" replaces, is completely lacking.

Unless written with a lighter hand the Government newspaper will create little public interest.

DENIS H. BESLEY.

WHAT DID HE SAY?

Would someone (whom I hope knows more about the mechanism of loud speakers and such like than I do) kindly tell us through the pages of our Victoria press just what is the reason, it is so hard to hear a speaker in our Victoria arena? (I have sat twice now on a chair just behind the clock, not under it). I find it very difficult to follow a speaker and have heard many others speak of having the same trouble. Is there not some way that this could be improved? Our arena is a wonderful building. At such times when we have a large crowd it can be very useful, but very much better if we can hear the speaker.

CITIZEN.

Beria and McCarthy

Calgary Herald

IT is, of course, perfectly possible that Lavrenti Beria has escaped from his Moscow confinement and that he is hiding in some non-Communist European country, impatiently eager to talk to Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin or to Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

It is perfectly possible; but if true it will destroy many of our favorite illusions about the MVD, which is the same as the NKVD, which is the same as the OGPU.

From our earliest childhood, when we first read the hair-raising adventures of Russians shipped off to Siberia by the Tsars, the whole concept of the Russian secret police (which has never changed in substance, however frequently it changes its name) has been in our minds.

One of all-pervasive efficiency and absolute devotion to the interests of whatever boss happened to be in the driver's seat at the moment.

In other words, if Beria has escaped, then the MVD isn't what we thought it was.

If Lavrenti bribed his way out of jail by the old-fashioned and simple method of dishing out the filthy lucre in the right places, then the secret police must be susceptible to palm-greasing on a scale we never thought possible; for the escape of the regime's most important prisoner is certain to lead to a purge to end all purges.

If he got out because he had loyal friends in the right places, then it means that it is still possible to have loyal friends in Russia, which is surprising. He could scarcely have made it merely by threatening to tell where the body was buried; who in Russia could be expected to believe a confessed traitor to the fatherland?

We confess we should be more inclined to believe the story of Beria's escape if it weren't for this little bit about his insisting on speaking to Senator McCarthy.

Quite a feather in McCarthy's cap, if true; quite a lot of good publicity for McCarthy even if not true.

But why McCarthy? Unlike most Russians, Beria was, until his recent departure for jail, in a position to read any newspapers he wished; he must therefore know that there are 149,999,999 other people also living in the U.S.A.

And just think of what anybody running a McCarthy-style investigation, who happened to be no friend of the senator's, could do with these facts. The man who until a few months ago was the No. 2 Communist under goes underground in Europe, and the only American he will deal with is McCarthy.

A skilled committee counsel could make that mean that McCarthy was the only man Beria felt he could trust. The senator has on occasion judged men by the company they keep. Was somebody saying something about guilt by association? Oh well, senator, there's always the Fifth Amendment.

The Great Unread

The Times (London)

IT IS MANY YEARS now since one of those octogenarians who are famous enough to be interviewed on their eightieth birthdays started the reporter by announcing that the day had taken a great load off his mind. He had finally decided that he never would read Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

He had bought it as a young man: there it had been, confronting him through half a century; but although year by year he had put off his determination to get through it he had never abandoned the project.

At last the moment to do so had come. He was now too old. He added, defiantly that he felt no disappointment, only relief.

The recollection is worth recording as a message of hope. They stand so reproachfully, those solid phalanxes of Grote's "Greece" and Mommsen's "Rome," the "Memoires Complets et Authentiques du Duc de Saint-Simon," Carlyle's "History of Friedrich II of Prussia Called Frederick the Great" why are so many of them histories?—and even such comparatively lighter fare as Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations."

With what satisfaction we had carried the bargains home; with what anticipation of pleasure we placed them on our shelves. Of course they were a little daunting to start in on right away. In any case, we had some reading in hand. With 12 volumes of a work to get through one needs the right moment. Somehow the right moment has never come. Now only the sense of a bargain remains.

Self-abasement in the face of such facts can, of course, go too far. If Sisyphean had been about today he would undoubtedly have been condemned to be a reader.

We can all—with the exception of the ever-to-be-revered Professor Saintsbury—echo the plaint of Arnold Bennett in his 30th year. "A list of the masterpieces, not to the publishers' more recent announcements of 'this week's classic.'"

But there is another class of unread books, to which the key is not time but disinclination. Even the most assiduous reader generally has some famous book he is determined not to read.

It has been said that Thomas Hardy never felt he could face up to "Wuthering Heights." George Moore once declared he shunned "The Scarlet Letter" because he knew the subject was too painful. An ardent Trollopean, who has enjoyed over 50 works of his favorite author, he resolutely shies away from the long-drawn-out unhappiness of "The Kneehigh He Was Right."

Such a compilation of the private "Indecents" of the great, with ostensible reasons, would not only keep the Freudians happy for a long time; it might also tell us something about the stresses of our day.

Sometimes such phobias are overcome. The really strong-minded set their teeth, grip the feared volume, and get through to its bitter end somehow. For others some chance remark or happening can roll the aversion away. The surprising thing is how often the book is then thoroughly enjoyed.

But such idiosyncrasies are generally reserved for the more emotional works of our literature. They hardly affect the worthy Gibbon, the voluminous Saint-Simon, the interminable Carlyle. We shall faithfully go on intending to read them. Until, with 79 safely behind us, comes the order of release.

MARKED for READING

THREE NEEDS

In order that people may be happy in their work, these three things are needed: They must be fit for it; They must not do too much of it; And they must have a sense of success in it.

—John Ruskin.

CONCENTRATED

Someone, somewhere, made the point that war is nothing more nor less than a concentrated dose of life. That is stripping away a lot of unnecessary verbiage. Fine then, let's get everything we are entitled to. You fancy yourself living on borrowed time, too impatient for your share to think of the rest.

—Gray Campbell, in "We Found Peace."

Wotta Character

IT'S probably ignorance on my part, but I can only half agree with Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, that there aren't enough "characters" in Canada.

Stott

"Characters," with quotation marks around the word, are a little like arbutus trees. They're well in somebody else's yard, but a nuisance in your own. And I'm not quite sure that I can accept the Smithsonian judgment that "The most valuable member of society is the man or woman who has the capacity for dissent, who sets up a resistance to mass movements and mass ideas." Up to a point, yes. But, looking back to meetings of the now defunct Victoria Press Club, I can't help thinking dissent can be carried too far on individual lines.

In the old Press Club you could, if you were lucky, sometimes assemble enough members for a meeting. On good days you might have a dozen attending. When you tried to get down to business, you found you had a dozen of those individuals who set up a resistance to mass movements and mass ideas. You found it difficult to have any motion passed. Press Club ideas jumped on a dozen horses and rode off furiously in 12 directions at once—which, I guess, wasn't a mass movement, but it was certainly a resistance to mass ideas.

FATAL INDIVIDUALITY

The Press Club, heaven bless it, is now dead. It wasn't dull, but it had a genius for disintegration more fatal than the restrained decay of conformity.

Dr. Smith wasn't talking about that type of individuality, I suppose. He could argue quite successfully that he didn't want all Canadians to be "characters"—just enough of them to throw in a touch of original thought and rebellion occasionally. He's probably worried about the herd mind and hoping something will occur in this country to counteract it.

But this business of "characters" is difficult. So very few of them are little more than exhibitionists who run contrary to the general tide merely to draw attention to themselves. They want to be eccentric. They want people to notice them. They want to be different just for the sake of being different. And they become cinders in the public eye.

I've known people who stood in the rain bareheaded, with the water pouring down inside their coat collars and running out from under their trouser cuffs just so they could declare "Beautiful day, isn't it?" to anybody passing by. I've known them pick arguments with a man over the angle at which he wore his hat just to create a commotion and attract the eye of anyone in the vicinity.

WORKING AT IT

I've known people who've worked so hard to be "characters" they've embarrassed and tired their friends and been little more than a pain in the neck to acquaintances.

They've devoted large sections of their waking hours to being eccentrics for no other purpose than to be eccentrics.

And I've known "characters" who were "characters" without trying and who were plain boring because of it.

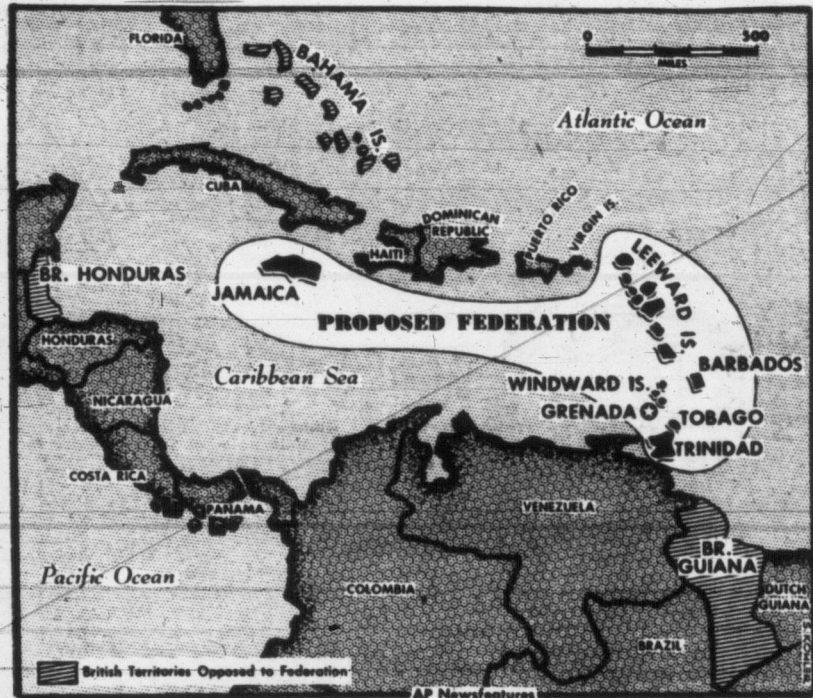

I'm all for the guy-of-the-other-side-of-the-barbaric—provided he's not merely following another mass movement alien to the one popular in his own locality.

Unquestionably it would be good for Canada to have a Bernard Shaw or two—just so long as I didn't have to live with them. We could even benefit from another Stephen Leacock. Any human gadfly that would bite into complacency and smugness would be an asset.

But "characters"—I don't know. They're pretty inferior products when they have to be manufactured. And when you have enough individualists setting up a resistance to mass movements and mass ideas, you're apt to find you have no movements at all and have substituted crackpotism for ideas.

A New Grouping in the Caribbean

Under a Federal Umbrella

Britain hopes for a louder voice in the affairs of the western hemisphere through her West Indian colonies, now marching toward nationhood.

She is awaiting the outcome of talks on a projected Caribbean Federation of her island colonies lying geographically between North and South America.

The emerging 13-island state, to start with, will serve a sort of apprenticeship in the British Commonwealth. If all goes well, Britain then will sponsor its march to eventual partnership in the Commonwealth, on the same basis as fully independent Canada. A 10-year program of financial help running to about 10 million dollars has been promised by Britain.

Long-dreamt closer association of the Caribbean colonies under a federal umbrella will bring together three million people of these unit members: Barbados, Jamaica minus its dependencies, Trinidad, Tobago, the Leeward Islands group minus the Virgin Islands (Antigua, Montserrat, St. Christopher, Nevis, Anguilla) and the Windward Islands group, Grenada, St. Vincent, St. Lucia and Dominica.

It will do more.

Britain's claims for a bigger say in the political and strategic affairs of the western hemisphere will be strengthened.

BURY PREJUDICE

While her Caribbean territories remain divided and jealous, Britain's influence is bound to be weak. The British realized this more than 20 years ago when they first began to press their unenthusiastic colonies to bury pride and prejudice.

Six years of postwar consultations between the scattered territories climaxed at a London parley last spring, when the main points of a federal constitution were hammered out. The colonial legislatures now are due to consider the plan. They have the right to amend it, accept it or even reject it.

Britain does not deem outright rejection likely, but she will not be surprised if the plan encounters vigorous opposition. She recognizes that even though most West Indians may want federation many are ready to support it only on their own terms.

Once the plan has been accepted Britain will call a new conference to consider the verdicts and any proposed revisions.

The West Indies seem on a map to be a geographical entity. But in fact they are a number of islands and islets—some mere rocks—curving in a 2,000-mile arc from the Florida channel (North America) to within seven miles of the Venezuelan coast (South America).

Control of the entire archipelago is shared between the United States, Britain, France, Holland and such Latin American republics as Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Venezuela.

The United States recognized the important strategic role of the West Indies in 1940 when she won military base rights on some of the islands for the next 99 years. A hard-pressed Britain took in return 50 used American destroyers for the war against Hitler. British government officials stress the American-leased bases will remain unaffected by any change in the status of the colonies.

Four British colonies in the Caribbean region have steered clear of federation.

DIFFERENT DESTINY

British Honduras on the central American mainland and British Guiana on the South American coast clearly consider they have an American, rather than a British, imperial destiny. Bermuda and the Bahamas claim they are Atlantic, not Caribbean, territories.

There is not much doubt their coyness towards federation, just like the coyness of many federation opponents in the West Indies, flows from the belief that their own living and prosperity standards will be dragged down by some of their poorer island cousins.

A main provision in the London agreement reflected this belief. It laid down that each territory will contribute but 15 per cent of its customs revenue to the federal government. Customs represent a main source of income.

Other features of the London agreement: The tiny island of Grenada, 100 miles north of Venezuela, has been chosen as the federal capital.

A customs union is to be established in the hope of stabilizing West Indies economy and promoting confidence in the group's ability to pay its own way.

A prime minister, presiding over a 14-man cabinet, is to lead a bicameral legislature. There will be a house of representatives with 45 members elected by the island peoples and a senate of 19 members appointed by the governor-general.

The West Indian peoples stem from mixed stocks. Some aboriginal Arawaks and Caribs survive together with Amerindians (Indians from America), Chinese, Syrians, East Indians. But by far the greater number of the islanders descended from West African negro slaves who came over during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Teamsters' Union Will Appeal Fraud Decision Against Agent

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The AFL Teamsters' Union fought back today against a judgment by Manitoba Chief Justice E. K. Williams reinstating one suspended member and accusing another of embezzlement.

ISLAND DIGEST

DUNCAN — Mr. George Whittaker of North Cowichan, while crossing the wake of his own boat in Maple Bay in a tiny boat powered with a high-speed outboard motor, bounced so sharply his motor was jarred loose and sank in 80 fathoms.

A passing American yachtman threw him a line, only to see his son tumble from the yacht into the water. He was retrieved, and fell from the yacht a second time at the Maple Bay wharf.

"A rough trip all around," Mr. Whittaker confessed.

PORT ALBERNI — Stating that the city council is under no legal obligation to pay the West Coast General Hospital $4,748.66 claimed by the board, Mayor Loran K. Jordan said a payment in the neighborhood of $4,500 will be made.

The board's claim represents the difference between the face value of hospital debentures and the actual sale price.

PORT ALBERNI — Two by-laws providing a total of $33,126 for pavement, sidewalk, sewer, and drain construction, and for special assessment on property already served by such conveniences, have been passed by the city council.

DUNCAN — An inquest will be held here Wednesday at 10 a.m. into the death of four-year-old Peter Tieme, killed when struck by a car in front of his Lake Cowichan Road home Friday.

His funeral was scheduled for today at 2 p.m.

COURTENAY — A civil defense lecture series to be given at Courtenay High School was officially opened by Mayor Joe Hitchen.

Instructors will be Maj. A. Cathcart Bruce, provincial director of training and instructor in Great Britain from 1936 onward throughout the war; Harold Snider, northern area co-ordinator, and James Audain and Ralph Roberts.

COURTENAY — The city has made the following offers to the village of Comox regarding sale of water: the price will be reached by mutual agreement; the city will provide up to 100,000 gallons per day; the city will sell to the village the existing water system extending from the city boundary to the village limits.

The city will quote a price in the near future.

Victorian Among Rhodes Scholars Bound for Oxford

James F. McWilliams, Victoria, and six other Canadian winners of 1953 Rhodes scholarships left Montreal for Britain Friday aboard the liner Empress of France.

The seven are to spend two years at Oxford University.

Mr. McWilliams, 22, was selected as UBC's candidate for the scholarship honor last December. He was a forestry student at the school and a member of the Thunderbird rugby team.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McWilliams, 919 Vancouver Street. Mr. McWilliams is head of the reforestation division of B.C. Forest Service.

Japan Plans Force Of 250,000 Men

TOKYO (Reuters)—Japan has moved a step nearer to having full-scale fighting forces for the first time since the Second World War Sunday, with plans for 250,000 men under arms, jet planes and aircraft carriers.

Premier Chigeru Yoshida and Progressive opposition leader Mamoru Shigemitsu agreed Sunday on a long-range defense plan to increase the "national safety forces." It is intended primarily to build up Japanese defenses to compensate for the gradual reduction of United States forces in Japan.

Under her constitution, Japan is not allowed to have fighting services as such. But the present "security" forces are organized and equipped in such a way that they could quickly be developed into a defense force.

Political sources said the support of both Yoshida and Shigemitsu will convince Washington that a majority of the Japanese diet (parliament) approves the plan.

The opposition Socialist parties, which hold 138 of the diet's 466 seats, bitterly attacked the agreement as a "violation of the constitution." They said the defense force as planned would be nothing less than a "real army."

Tito Ignores Trieste Question in Speech

RUMA, Yugoslavia (AP)—

President Tito shied away from any reference to Yugoslavia's quarrel with Italy over the future of Trieste as he delivered a major address Sunday before a crowd officially estimated at more than 250,000 persons.

Despite advance reports he would deal with international affairs and particularly Yugoslav-Italian relations, he concentrated on domestic issues, including agriculture and religion.

Inquest Blames Speed, Liquor For Fatal Crash

Jury Urges Stiffer Drinking Penalties

LADYSMITH—Excessive speed and impaired driving were blamed for an auto crash Sept. 12 on the Diamond Bridge, two miles north of here, that was fatal to four Port Alberni residents.

A coroner's jury investigating the deaths Saturday recommended more severe penalties for impaired driving.

Lyall Parke, RCN rating from HMCS Naden, a hitchhiker and passenger in the car, testified that all occupants of the car "appeared to have been drinking."

"The driver was doing 80 miles an hour when we hit the bridge," he said.

Killed in the crash were Hugh A. Green, 50, widower and driver of the car; Charles Rayner, 34; Esbella Spendlow, 34; and Mrs. Louis Cappello, 50.

Two other motorists testified that the car passed them at excessive speed. Traveling south, it struck the northern abutment of the bridge and went on down the bank.

The jury recommended that amber flasher lights be installed at both north and south approaches to the bridge, and that loose gravel at the approaches be replaced by hard-surfacing.

NEW RCAF COMMAND

CALGARY (CP)—Group Captain John Hoysted Fenton of Port Dover, Ont., has taken over command of the RCAF's No. 25 air material base at Calgary. He relieves Wing Commander A. C. Bert Border, 38, who resigned from the service after serving in Calgary since 1946.

POWER STEERING*

POWER BRAKES*

4-WAY POWER SEAT*

MERC-O-MATIC DRIVE*

Mercury POWER STEERING now available on all models keeps the vital feel-of-the-road—you know you're in full command of the car. When more than fingertip pressure is needed, hydraulic "muscles" take over, make steering 3 times easier. Lets you park in the tight spots with ease.

All-new optional POWER BRAKES require little more than accelerator pressure. The weight of your foot holds the car on a hill. Straight line stopping is up to 50% easier—faster, too, because lower, closer pedal permits quick changing from gas pedal to brake—cuts reaction time.

Mercury Power Seat, now optional on all models. It adjusts four ways to provide your "just right" position. Simply press a button to move seat up or down, forward or back for the position from which you can see the best and drive the easiest with most relaxation.

There's no clutch—no gear shifting—Merc-O-Matic is fully automatic. To go, set lever and step on gas. It gives instant, smooth power response. There's automatic downshift for hill climbing. There's positive, safe control on curves. Merc-O-Matic Drive is available on all models.

Increased Trade Between Allies, Red China Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Operations Director Harold Stassen reported a big increase in trade between the West and Communist China Sunday, but asserted it was not necessarily harmful.

At the same time, he said there has been "considerable improvement" in the Free World's drive to stop strategic materials of a war-making potential from moving to countries behind the Iron Curtain.

While reporting an increase in non-strategic trade, Stassen said the Western nations have tightened shipping controls and expanded their list of banned strategic items, especially on goods bound for China.

Bond Markets Quiet

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial and government issues were quiet and unchanged today in Montreal bond markets. On the corporate market, convertibles were a shade better, in line with the stock market.

Most Prices Up Slightly

TORONTO (CP)—Most prices were rising slightly in the light trading toward the close of today's session on the stock market.

Industrials, still rising steadily from the opening, were the only group to gain more than a point from last week's close. Base metals and western oils were slightly higher and golds sank a little below Friday's mark.

Industrials' rise was led by papers and refining oils, with

Bulls Quietly Boost Wall St. List by Point

NEW YORK (AP)—A moderate advance was negotiated by the stock market in a quiet manner.

Some gains ran around to a point in several sections of the list. Losses were scattered. There was no outstanding news to influence the market either way. As a consequence, the quiet buying that bolstered the market had bullish implications.

Leading Canadian stocks higher, Canadian Pacific gained 1/2. International Nickel followed, up 1/4. Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram each advanced 1/4. Hiram Walker fell 1/4 and McIntyre dropped 1/4.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange were higher. Royalite Oil added 1/4 and Lake Shore and Giant Yellowknife were ahead 1/4.

Broad Advance

MONTREAL (CP)—The stock market advanced broadly during light afternoon dealings today. Gains were generally small but Canada-Cement rose a point to 77.

Utilities, banks, beverages, senior oils and senior metals showed power, while miscellaneous industrials were irregular. Steels, papers and carriers hovered around former closing levels.

Mines and western oils were narrowly higher in slow trading. Sullivan Consolidated, Celta, Anacon, Belville, Fenimore and Boreal were among the gainers. In oils, Anglo-Canadian and Calvan moved forward.

London Exchange Quiet But Firm

LONDON (Reuters)—The prospect of new government financing and of the re-sale of the steel industry retained activity on the London stock exchange today, but prices remained firm.

British government stocks were 1-1/2 higher in places and there were gains, particularly in the railway and steel groups, among the industrial leaders. Hudson's Bay went ahead on the hopes of a good dividend.

Oil shares benefited from favorable week-end press comment and shipping shares registered some useful gains. In the foreign bond section, British consols and Spanish issues went up following the news of the Franco-American agreement. Germans were well maintained and Romanians were also a little improved.

Closing prices: Babcock & Wilcox 66 3/4, Boots Pure Drug 21 7/8, Canadian Pacific 84 1/2, Central Mining 11 1/2, Consolidated Goldfields 48 1/2, Courtauld 44 1/2, Hudson's Bay Co. 15 1/2, Imperial Chemicals 49 1/2, Imperial Tobacco 56 1/2, Metal Box 63 1/2, Mexicana 22 1/2, Rand Mines 65 1/2, British 3 1/2, War Loans 11 1/2, British 10 1/2, Financial Times daily index of London stocks today was 125 1/2, up 1/2.

BUSINESS CAPSULE

By ED McLEAN

Sterling convertibility, under which one could change British currency into dollars or any other currency, is not yet a feasible proposition, says the monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

If it is to become feasible, the review adds, greater co-operation is required from the United States.

Such co-operation, to be adequate, must assure that Britain will have access to large credits if required; that there be a significant volume of dollar investment abroad and aid to underdeveloped countries; and that there be better opportunities to sell in the United States market.

In any event, the review states, "sterling convertibility is not a cure-all" for the present British objective is not aimed at convertibility in a full sense.

"It is limited to convertibility of sterling currently earned. There is no suggestion of allowing complete freedom of capital movements. Freedom of capital transfers would open up the possibility of almost unlimited drains on the sterling area's exchange reserves if people within and without the area saw fit to remove their funds."

"Convertibility would not mean a return to the traditional system of meeting a large United States deficit with a large overseas surplus. For it would not significantly alter the basic facts which have led Canada to turn increasingly to the United States market."

"For the dollar countries, including Canada, the British plan for convertibility would not change the existing arrangements, since current sterling in their hands is already convertible.

"The difficulty is that their ability to earn sterling is severely limited by import controls against dollar goods. Thus Canada's direct interest in sterling convertibility would depend on the degree to which it was accompanied by a reduction in these import restrictions."

Canada and other dollar countries have a broader interest in the British plan "in that it would facilitate a freer system of world trade" and perhaps make such markets as those of western Europe more accessible.

GRAIN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Most prices displayed a steady tone in moderately active trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange, high-lighted by aggressive demand from American interests for barley.

It was the best demand for barley for several weeks, and was believed in connection with American purchases of malting barley from Canada. Oats trade, however, was on a duller line. With small domestic buying in evidence, Rye dealings also were active, with American shippers on the buying. Offerings based on the advance. Flax attracted light support from processors and seaboard houses.

Prices for the top-grade northern of Class-1, 1A and domestic wheat advanced 1/2 cent from Friday. Changes in the durum were irregular.

Cats Edge Seattle

Rangers Defeat Bombers, Royals

Victoria 5, Seattle 4

Victoria Cougars, some with their summer vacation still showing, but most appearing ready to cut the mustard as thin as coach Billy Reay desires, today awaited Tuesday's visit here of New York Rangers with victory to show for their season's baptism.

The better club on the night's play, the Cougars Saturday night edged Seattle Bombers 5-4 at Nanaimo Civic Arena, the small ice surface making it difficult to obtain a comprehensive appraisal of the two clubs.

Still, the Cats did show a hustling crew, and despite the fact they had only a week's training behind them were going as good as the finish as at the start.

Colin Kilburn may have found himself a new centre in Gene Achymichuk to replace his former coach, Doug Anderson, as the pair combined for two of the Cougar goals.

Kilburn took a pass from Achymichuk, a crew cut youngster with promise, for the first goal early in the first period. The Bombers replied with a pair by Wayne Brown and Doug Macaulay before Kilburn once again converted a pass from Achymichuk to leave the clubs tied at 2-2.

Stan Maxwell, in hustling form, put the Cougars ahead again in the second period on a whistling long shot from the side, and Andy Heberton put-raced two Seattle defenders to a loose puck in centre ice to beat goalie Eric Patterson easily and provide a 4-2 edge.

The Bombers, a combination of the Seattle and Tacoma clubs of last year, scored through Joe Bell and Mark Marquess early in the third period as they showed to their best advantage. But in the final 10 minutes the Cougars dominated play, Sam Bettio's winning goal coming on the prettiest passing movement of the contest with Tony Schneider and Sam Lavitt.

Coach Billy Reay, who didn't dress for the game, continually mixed up his forward and defense combinations as he is likely to continue to do until the season's opener at Vancouver, Oct. 6.

As a result, players spent most of the evening attempting to fit their patterns into those of their linemates with some scrambling but still interesting hockey the obvious conclusion.

Lavitt was as impressive as any Cougar on the ice while Eddie Dorosh was his usual imperturbable self although working at a disadvantage in the small arena.

RANGERS WIN TWO
That the Cougars will have their work cut out for them against the Rangers is evidenced by the fact that the Rangers Sunday defeated Seattle, 4-2, at Seattle, and Saturday edged New Westminster Royals, 3-2, at New Westminster.

Earlier the NHL club lost to Calgary and twice defeated Vancouver Canucks, 6-1, and 7-1.

Vernon, Furillo Take Major Batting Crowns

Baseball in 1953 produced a pair of short-priced pennant winners and a host of long-shot individual champions.

New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers clearly outclassed their opposition.

The Yanks, winning a record-breaking fifth straight American League crown, led for all but nine days of the season, finishing 8½ games ahead of Cleveland Indians.

Brooklyn clinched its second successive National League flag, unique in Dodger history, September 12, earliest date in league history. The Dodgers ended 13 games in front of the surprising Milwaukee Braves.

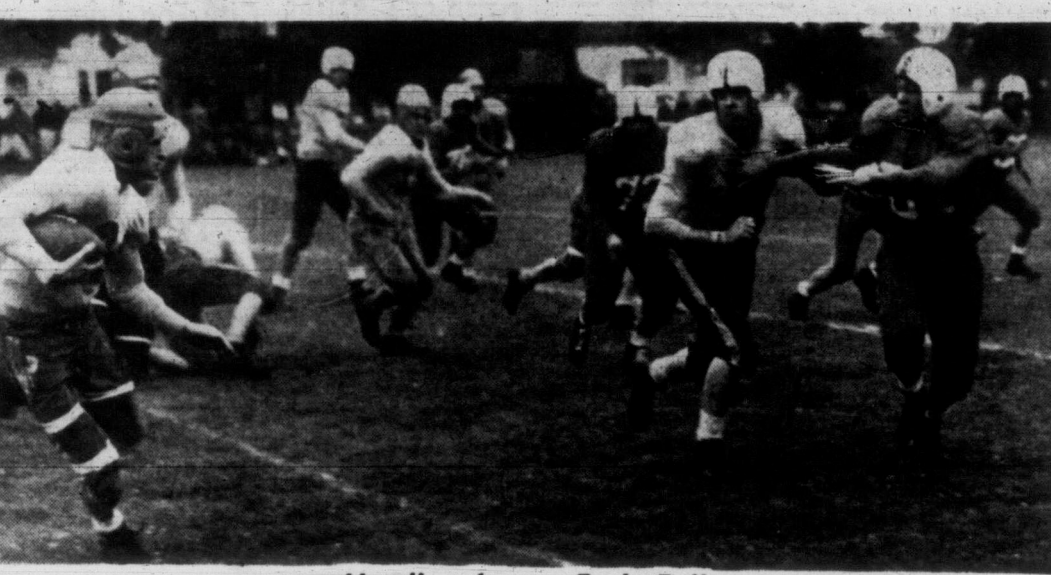

But the individual winners, particularly the batting champions, rarely figured in pre-season calculations.

Carl Furillo, of the Dodgers, who during the winter gambled his career on a delicate eye operation to improve his vision, won the league batting title with an excellent .344 average. A year ago he hit a weak .247.

And in the American League, Mickey Vernon, of Washington, whose 1946 batting crown was viewed by many as more luck than skill, jumped from .251 last season to .337, one point ahead of Al Rosen of Cleveland. It was the first time since 1946 that Vernon has hit over .330.

Eddie Mathews of the Braves, last year's top strike-out victim, clouted 47 home runs for the National League title.

MISSED FIRST BASE
Rosen won both the homer and runs-batted-in crowns in the American League. He hit 43 home runs, 15 more than last year, and drove home 145 runs.

Heading for an Early Fall

The 1953 Victoria Junior Canadian Football League schedule got under way before 2,000 fans Saturday at Heywood Avenue with defending champion Vampires humbling Oak Bay, 10-0. Here Oak Bay's fleet halfback, George Wilson, appears headed for trouble on an end run. Vampire end, Rickie McVie, right, slides around Oak Bay and Gordie Bennett to drop Wilson on the line of scrimmage. (Times Photo.)

CASEY NAMES ALLIE FOR SERIES OPENER

Veteran Allie Reynolds was named by manager Casey Stengel today as the Yanks' opening-day pitching choice.

The Oklahoma Indian's disappointing 13-7 record was offset by improved showings in recent starts. Carl Erskine, whose season record is 20-7, is expected to be Reynolds' opponent.

Scroggs, Hibberson Gain Uplands Final

Frank Scroggs and Eric Hibberson are scheduled to meet in the final match for the Uplands Golf Club men's championship at the club greens Sunday.

Scroggs and Hibberson emerged winners in semifinal matches Sunday and will oppose each other in a 36-hole final for the club title next Sunday.

Rochester at Montreal postponed

United Bows to Royals, May Sign Tommy Druce

Royals 5, United 1
Victoria United, who lost on two counts at Vancouver's Callister Park Saturday, may solve one of its problems this week.

There is nothing the club can do about Saturday's 5-1 loss to New Westminster Royals, the first of the season.

However, the possible loss of speedy halfback Bill McMillan for Saturday's game here against Vancouver City may be offset by the signing of forward Tommy Druce.

McMillan, who shows promise of becoming a bright star in the United line-up, pulled a leg muscle during the first half and was forced to retire from action at half time.

Coach Wally Milligan stated today that the club was attempting to entice Druce to return to United. Druce came to United from Royals in the latter part of last season and is reported to have said he would return when the lacrosse season ended this year.

The game was of little consequence, United having a rough boat trip to the mainland city and also minus the services of Ab Travis.

Royals took a 2-0 half-time lead on goals by Fred Coors and Bob Lewis and controlled the game throughout. United's forward line showing poorly and missing many passing plays.

Earl Crossan boosted the margin 15 minutes into the second session and two fast goals by Lex Henderson put the game beyond doubt.

MILLIGAN SCORES

Milligan, who came on at the centre-forward position for United in the final 20 minutes, averted a whitewashing when he scored in the closing minutes of the game.

Loss left United in a three-way tie for second place with North Shore and Firefighters, each club having lost one game and won one.

St. Andrews, 3-0, here in the league opener.

FIREMEN WIN

In other Coast Soccer League action Saturday, Art Hughes scored in the waning minutes of the game to give Firefighters a 2-1 decision over St. Andrews at Central Park in Vancouver. Doug Greig scored the first goal for Firefighters and Jim Rankin evened the count for St. Andrews.

Beliveau Stars For Canadiens

MONTREAL (CP) — Rookie Jean Beliveau paced the Montreal Canadiens to a 5-2 exhibition hockey win over Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League Saturday night.

The flashy Beliveau figured in four of the Montreal goals. He scored the only goal of the first period on passes from Maurice Richard and Gaye Stewart, scored another in the second and assisted on goals by Eddie Mazur and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion. The other Montreal goal was scored by Eddie Litzemberger.

Cooper, Varley Share Final Track Honors

Youthful Dick Varley combined with veteran Dave Cooper Saturday night to write a colorful finish to local stock car meets at Shearings Speedway this season.

Only one scheduled event remains to be run at the Cobble Hill Cutoil track, the B.C. championships in both big car and stocker divisions set for Thanksgiving Day, October 12.

Varley started the evening by timing in at 17.15 seconds in his one-lap time trial, barely missing the current record of 17.12 held by Mike Newton. He went on to win the helmet dash and first heat race.

Cooper then solved some motor trouble and took over to pace the field home in the second heat and "A" main events to add to his now almost unbeatable aggregate point total. Only chance for local drivers to pass Cooper is in the provincial championship.

FLEMING, MORRISON LIFT CITY BUTTONS

The city senior golf buttons changed hands Sunday when Gorge Vale's Bob Fleming and Hugh Morrison defeated Jim Robertson and Bill Court of Colwood Golf Club, 3 and 2, at Victoria Golf Club.

Best ball for the winners was four-under-par 65 against two-under-par 67 for the losers.

The winners are scheduled to meet the challenge of George Bigelow and Phil Ridford of Victoria Golf Club at Colwood Golf and Country Club Sunday.

Eight Contests Open Minor Soccer Season

Rain and cold weather failed to lower the spirit of youthful soccer competitors as play in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association opened over the week-end.

In first division play Sunday, Sidney won from Langford by default when the latter club was unable to field a team, and Eagles whitewashed 5th BC Coast Regiment, 5-0, in an exhibition game at Upper Beacon Hill.

ANAF Vets blanked Canadian Scottish, 3-0, at Windsor Park, on the strength of a first-half goal by George Robbins and two second-half markers by Bill Abbott.

Carl Crossan boosted the margin 15 minutes into the second session and two fast goals by Lex Henderson put the game beyond doubt.

MILLIGAN SCORES

Milligan, who came on at the centre-forward position for United in the final 20 minutes, averted a whitewashing when he scored in the closing minutes of the game.

Loss left United in a three-way tie for second place with North Shore and Firefighters, each club having lost one game and won one.

St. Andrews, 3-0, here in the league opener.

FIREMEN WIN

In other Coast Soccer League action Saturday, Art Hughes scored in the waning minutes of the game to give Firefighters a 2-1 decision over St. Andrews at Central Park in Vancouver. Doug Greig scored the first goal for Firefighters and Jim Rankin evened the count for St. Andrews.

Boudreau Signs Two-Year Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston Red Sox signed manager Lou Boudreau to a new two-year contract Sunday.

The former Cleveland star shortstop is finishing his second year as manager of the Red Sox.

Last year the Sox finished sixth in the American League. This season he raised his youthful team to fourth.

Terms were not announced.

Prospective club members are asked to attend.

'REASONABLE CHANCE, SAYS BOUCHER

Rangers Eye Playoffs

By CAM MCKENZIE

SASKATOON (CP) — The combination of a physically-sound goalkeeper, improved defense and two top-flight centres should give New York Rangers a "reasonable chance" of hitting the National Hockey League playoffs this year.

Frank Boucher, who doubles as manager and coach this season, made the prediction here as Rangers, bottom-place club in the league the last two seasons, broke off training camp and embarked on an eight-game exhibition tour.

Rangers start the season at Detroit Oct. 8, the earliest opening in the league's history. They play five road games before appearing before home-town fans at Madison Square Garden Oct. 22, but even with this rugged schedule Boucher has hopes of a successful start.

Boucher considered his biggest "catch" of the summer season was centre Max Bentley, purchased from Toronto Maple Leafs.

SMART GOALKEEPER

Boucher was high on Johnny Bower, former Cleveland Baron goalkeeper who came to Rangers this year in exchange for two players and an undisclosed amount of cash. Bower, native of Prince Albert, Sask., led the American Hockey League team to three league championships and two playoff titles in four years. His understudy will be Bev Bentley, a nephew of Max.

The New York manager is also banking heavily on a good season from centre Don Raleigh, hampered throughout the 1952-53 schedule with a fractured wrist. Now fit, "Bones" figures as one of the Rangers' key men this year.

But Max Bentley and Raleigh are by no means the only bright spots Rangers have along the forward lines. Veterans Nick Mickoski, Paul Ronty, Wally Hergesheimer, Eddie Kullman and Jack Stoddard have impressed since the Rangers started training Sept. 6.

Sophomores such as Dean Prentice, Ron Murphy, Aldo Guidolin and Andy Bathgate have been kicking up their heels and showing good form, too.

Also in camp were forwards Bill Dea, who helped Lethbridge Native Sons in the western Canadian junior final last season, Camille Henry, last year with Quebec Citadels, and Ike Hildebrand of Cleveland Barons. There seems no doubt that New York will be powerful at defence. Leo Reise, Harry Howell and Hy Buller, all with Rangers last year, have definitely clinched spots.

The other two berths are open to the best among Allan Stanley, New York veteran; Mid Houghton, junior from Calgary; and Ivan Irwin, Bob Chrystal and Jack Evans, who all had good seasons in minor professional leagues last winter.

Hitler Aides Reported Held By Russians

Returning PWs Claim Nazi Generals Captive

CAMP FRIEDLAND, Germany (AP)—Repatriated German prisoners of war reported Sunday three former servants of Hitler and 14 former German army generals are still in a Soviet camp in the Ural Mountains.

The three Hitler aides, long believed in the West to be dead, include Hitler's valet H. Linke, who, the freed prisoners said, helped burn the Fuehrer's body after his suicide in the air raid bunker of Berlin's Reich chancellery.

The others were described as Flight Capt. Hansi Baur, Hitler's personal pilot, and a personal adjutant, Guentche.

The prisoners said that the Hitler aides and German generals were being held in camp Pevo-Uralsk in the Ural mountains. Among other prominent prisoners reported held there was the son of Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Nazi leader and former Austrian chancellor who was hanged for crimes in Nuremberg in 1946.

Another was a member of the family of the former German armament king, Alfred Krupp, the freed PWs said.

The generals included several infantry division commanders and tank experts.

Math Class Deleted From College Course

The cancellation of one of three university credit courses planned for this year's Victoria College evening division was announced today by Prof. Robert T. D. Wallace, director.

Mathematics 201 will be dropped from the curriculum because of an insufficient registration.

Credit courses definitely to be given are English 200 and Mathematics 101. First lectures are scheduled in these two subjects for Tuesday. Classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 7.30 to 9.30, until the end of April.

Persons wishing to register for either of these courses still can do so. Final enrollments will be taken Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

12 Belgian Miners Die in Elevator Cage

'Build Your Own Home' Course To Be Open to General Public

This year, for the first time, the "build-your-own-home" course offered at Victoria night school will be open to anyone, instead of just veterans building under a VLA scheme.

The course has been offered for the past three years but until now members of the general public could not enroll.

The Veterans' Land Act Administration organized home-building courses across the country to help veterans beat high construction costs.

G. L. Chatterton, regional supervisor of the VLA in Victoria says "The success of these courses can be judged by the fact that over 15,000 new houses have been built in Canada under the VLA, and today, 88 per cent of the houses under construction are being built by veterans themselves with a considerable saving in costs."

Last year, so many wanted to take the night school course that two classes were formed.

This year's course will again be a joint undertaking by the School Board and the VLA. Classes will be held every Wednesday at the F. T. Fairley Vocational-Technical School, starting Oct. 7. The course consists of 16 lectures with practical demonstration in building a complete section of a dwelling.

If there is a sufficient number of applicants, a second class, to meet Monday nights, will be organized.

Registration forms for those interested in the course may be obtained from the director of Evening Classes, Greater Victoria School Board Office, or from the VLA office in the Belmont Building.

WHITE ROCK, B.C. (CP)—Mrs. Marie Hardy of White Rock was killed in a freak accident this morning when she was pinned against a telephone standard by her car.

RCMP said Mrs. Hardy was apparently pushing her car backwards to get it started when she was wedged against the post by an open door.

A brother, George Phaneuf, 2623 Rock Bay Avenue, Victoria, was notified by RCMP as next-of-kin.

Toronto Yachtsman Wins Philip's Cup

TORONTO (CP)—George Hanna of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Toronto, Sunday became the first winner of the Duke of Edinburgh Cup, recently presented by the Queen's husband for competition among Gragon class sailing craft.

Hanna finished first in three of Saturday's and Sunday's events here and eighth in a fourth event for a winning 37 1/2-point total.

MOOSE JAW (CP)—LAC Earl McCall of Moose Jaw was killed Friday night when struck by an automobile while he was walking from the RCMP station south of the city into town.

THE Austin A-40 SOMERSET

The delivered price of the Austin A-40 Somerset is an honest price. That low figure buys you a complete new car. There are no extras to buy.

The quoted price includes such features (usually priced extra) as foam-rubber cushioning, wear-defying, soil-resisting genuine leather upholstery and an air-conditioning heater that will give you living-room warmth all winter. It also includes directional signals, non-stall electric windshield wipers, plus a powerful 12-volt electrical system.

But that's only half the story.

The other half is the satisfying, able way your Austin performs—at savings as high as 50¢ on each operating dollar.

Try an Austin on the road. You can see through that wide, nothing-in-your-way windshield. You can match traffic at its toughest—and cruise smoothly at highway speeds in day-long comfort. And you can be sure of Austin service wherever you go. These are reasons why more than 80,000 Canadians now drive Austin.

Canada-Japan Trade Treaty Moving Ahead

Most Favored Nation
Treatment Suggested

OTTAWA — Negotiations between Japan and Canada for a trade pact are moving ahead and an announcement on the completion of the deal is expected shortly, it was learned here today.

Japan is seeking to have most-favored-nation treatment granted to her by Canada. Such a concession by this country would mean a sharp reduction in the tariff on Japanese goods, such as textiles, imported into Canada.

Canada is believed to be considering granting Japan "conditional" MFN treatment. That is, she would reserve the right to revalue goods imported from Japan for duty purposes.

With the negotiations now under way Canada's delegation to the current session of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade meeting in Geneva has stayed out of the controversy over whether or not to allow Japan into GATT. The British delegation has strongly opposed Japan's admission while the United States delegation has favored Japan's entry.

STAND NOT CLEAR
The Canadian government generally favors the admission of Japan to GATT. It is understood, however, to date she has not explained her stand.

The question of Japan entering GATT has reportedly been referred to a special committee for study and report before the main Geneva meeting comes to a close next month.

The Japanese government meantime has been pressing its case in Ottawa for the negotiation of a separate trade pact. It has been pointed out that Japan is one of Canada's best customers, whereas Japan's sales to Canada are comparatively small. Canada's annual exports to Japan are in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, while Canada imports from Japan around $12,000,000 worth of goods.

There is strong opposition in Canada among the textile manufacturers to the granting of MFN treatment to Japan.

Under the proposed trade pact Canada would probably insist on the right to invoke Section 43 of the customs tariff under which the minister is empowered to fix the value for duty of goods brought into Canada from Japan. That would automatically bring into operation the Canadian anti-dumping law.

Victim of Polio
NELSON (CP) — A 24-year-old Arrow Lakes man has died in hospital here from bulbar polio.

William Brunner, a resident of the Edgewood area on the Arrow Lakes, was flown to Nelson Friday in a B.C. Forest Service plane.

After being placed in an iron lung, he died early Saturday while an RCAF crew was preparing to fly him to Vancouver.

HOW to get a Friendly Loan at NIAGARA FINANCE

Drop in to see your friendly Niagara Loan advisor. He'll make it easy for you to get the Friendly Loan that suits you best. Here are important facts for you about Niagara Loans.

Who can get a Niagara Friendly Loan?—Anyone with a reputation for honesty and the ability to repay.

How much can be borrowed from Niagara?—Up to $1500; sometimes more.

How quickly can I get money?—Sometimes in 20 minutes; within 24 hours for most loans.

How long can I take to repay?—In the table below, there are just a few of many plans. They will give you some idea of time periods allowed for different amounts... from 4 to 24 months. And for all people who have uneven income during the year, such as farmers and schoolteachers, special payment schedules may be arranged on loans above $500.

Are all loan charges the same?—Up to $500 generally, yes; but remember, at Niagara, you get life insurance at no extra cost.

Above $500, the larger the amount and the longer the time—the lower the rate. Compare... often you'll "buy" more money at less cost at Niagara.

Is life insurance on loans worthwhile?—Yes, here is a real family peace-of-mind feature. At no extra cost to you, loans of $1500 or less, are life-insured. Be sure you get this protection when you borrow.

Does a friend have to "back" my loan?—No, seldom do borrowers prefer an endorsed loan. And bankable security, of course is not needed.

How many ways of borrowing are there?—You can use any of these four Niagara Loan plans. 1. On cars, trucks, etc.; only owner signs. 2. Husband-and-wife, on furnishings. 3. On business equipment. 4. On farm stock and equipment.

Can I have a private interview?—Yes, your interview at Niagara will be private, courteous, and friendly.

Why do people borrow money?—A few reasons are: to consolidate a group of small debts; to reduce large payments for car and truck repairs; to meet emergencies; to repair or modernize homes; to enlarge a business; for seed, stock, fertilizer for farms; and to take advantage of low prices, when cash is paid.

Do many people borrow?—Yes, in Canada, 1 family in 4 borrow each year.

INTERIOR BOY THUMBS RIDE, DIES IN CRASH

CRANBROOK (BUP) — Dale Edward Kehler, 14, Marysville, was killed Saturday night when the truck in which he was riding overturned, police reported.

Kehler had been spending the evening here with two other Marysville boys and had hitch-hiked a ride home on the truck.

The game of cricket appeared in something like its present form in the late 16th century in England.

SNUBS METROPOLITAN OPERA

Helen Traubel Refuses To Stop Singing 'Pop'

NEW YORK (UP) — Wagnerian soprano Helen Traubel turned her back on the staid old Metropolitan Opera today to spend a season singing "fine popular music" on the night club circuit.

She said she would rather sing "The St. Louis Blues" in a cabaret than yield to the "rank snobbery" of Metropolitan general manager Rudolf Bing.

Bing had offered Miss Traubel a contract for the coming season with a proviso she would not appear in New York night clubs before, during and after her appearances at the Met.

Met. "These two activities do not really seem to mix very well," he said.

Miss Traubel, a leading light at the Met since she made her debut there in 1939, sent the contract back unsigned. She disclosed an exchange of letters between Bing and herself pointing up their disagreement over whether opera stars should spend their time off singing "pop" songs for pay.

Bing said he would consider it "highly undesirable" for her to carry on her night club work between stints as Isolde or Brunhilde at the Met.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

So you think you know Victoria, eh? So did I, until I read the following extract from the advance program of the American Mining Congress convention in Seattle.

Under the heading "A Visit to Canada," the program stated: "Victoria is probably the quietest capital in the world. Its industry is tucked out of sight, and there are no rushing cabs or choking traffic."

"A sightseeing trip will cover the more important attractions, including the Parliament Buildings... Beacon Hill Park, with its arresting seascapes and views of Uncle Sam's snow-capped Olympics... the royal swans, the bowling green and cricket fields, and other features that add the air of leisurely living which make Victoria a 'bit of Old England'."

While the visitors were here, I do hope one of our sedate taxis took them on a tour through the restful, quiet, wide-open spaces of Government Street at 5 p.m.

The Industrial Acceptance Corporation has straightened me out on a little remark made recently in this space. I reported an IAC bulletin said Canada had $46,681 outstanding in $25 bills, and added that only a finance company could figure how to divide 25 into 46,681.

Well, the Montreal office of IAC has now been heard from. J. H. Mackey, assistant general sales manager, says the figures quoted were supplied by the federal government.

"The government knows the original issue of bills of this denomination," he says, "and also the amount redeemed. The only conclusion to be reached is that the government has redeemed torn or burnt bills... and the amount still outstanding includes portions of bills that have been lost or gone up in smoke..."

I will now resist the temptation to say, only a federal government has money to burn.

Remember all the fun we had last summer, trying to coax a heat wave into Victoria? We used to exclaim over two straight days without relief from temperatures in the high seventies, and so on.

Well, I've just encountered a definition of heat wave which seems very applicable to Victoria. "Heat wave," says the Englishman, "means not quite so cold as last summer."

Judging from her maiden speech in the Legislature Friday, Mrs. Lydia Arsen is all dry.

I am afraid the logic of her arguments is more likely to be called all wet.

Musty Laws Quoted to Quash City Charges Against Haighs

The much-postponed city police court case against Harry and Florence Haigh was adjourned again today, by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The pair is charged jointly with maintaining a junk yard at their Rockland Avenue home in defiance of city by-laws, of violating zoning regulations regarding single-family dwellings; and Mrs. Haigh is charged with obstructing a city building inspector in the course of his duties.

Mr. Haigh is a former candidate for mayor here. The adjournment followed presentation of the case for the defence by counsel J. A. Byers.

Mr. Byers reached into ancient law books, quoted cases as far back as 1668, to bear out his contention that Victoria's building-by-law is void because "it is in restraint of trade."

He charged also that the building-by-law has been repealed by implication contained in a fire by-law prepared in 1949. The building-by-law was adopted in 1938.

He said there had been no evidence provided by the prosecuting attorney, A. E. Bigelow, proving operation of a junkyard at the Haigh premises.

SEES NO PROOF In fact, he said, no one has proven Harry Haigh owns the property or had been seen on it at the time of the alleged offense.

He also questioned pictures presented by the prosecution of piles of junk. He said they were taken prior to the day the charge was laid and the photographer has never testified.

He added that W. Osterink, city building inspector, who laid the charge on August 10, has never appeared to give testimony either.

Prosecutor Bigelow, also armed with a battery of precedents, argued the existing by-law is not in restraint of trade. Magistrate Hall declared the adjournment was necessary in order for him to consider all submissions.

Defense lawyer Byers quipped at one point, "This case is lasting longer than other cases of Haigh and Haigh I can recall in the past."

20-Day Jail Sentence For Impaired Driving Twenty days in jail with no option of fine was the penalty imposed in the case of Nels R. Ekstrand, Elders Logging Company, Sooke, when he was convicted in city police court today of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

He was arrested on Gorge Road, Sept. 26. It was his third offense. Magistrate H. C. Hall added that he would recommend suspension of the man's driver's license.

One hundred and sixteen families shared Saturday in the distribution of food from Mrs. Barbara Green's surplus food stall in the city market building. Members of the Esquimalt Lions Club helped in collecting and delivering the hampers.

Tom Bate (SC, Vancouver Point Grey) today was elected chairman of the Legislature's mining and railways committee. J. A. Reid (SC, Salmon Arm) was named secretary.

A brochure, printed in English, describing the development of the Port of Yokohama, has been sent to Victoria's City Hall by Mayor Ryoza Hirayama.

Two cases of theft were reported to city police over the week-end. A box of tools, property of J. C. Chandler, 140 Joseph Street, was removed from the Victoria Super Service garage.

Mrs. V. Philpichalk, 4702 West Saanich Road, left a wallet containing $35 and some papers on a desk in the Bank of Toronto, Yates and Broad Streets Friday. When she noticed her loss and returned the wallet was missing.

This Kitty Loves Birds—But Not for Breakfast

Just one big happy family describes the animals who are pets in the home of Mrs. R. W. Mawle, 124 Leigh Road, Langford. Butch, the cat who never ate a bird in his life, is very fond of Tony, the budgerigar, who likes to ride around on his feline friend's shoulders. Snowball, the white rabbit, just loves everybody, and submits placidly when the bird walks around on his back. However, his idea of a really good time is eating. There is also a dog in the family, who tolerates the rest of the pets, but prefers to spend his time in the outdoors and declined to pose for his portrait. Cat, bird and rabbit have been together since their baby days, are now from four to six months old. The only time Butch displays irritation is when Tony flutters his wings while riding on the cat's back, but otherwise displays nothing but affection for his pals.

Mrs. Mawle, holding Butch and Tony, proves there is no jealousy between the two. She believes many a human family could benefit from her pets' example. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

3 New Cases Boost Total Polio to 74

Relief Hoped for In Cool Weather

A Saanich man, in his 30's, and two small children from the city were admitted to the isolation centre at Royal Jubilee Hospital during the week-end as Greater Victoria's latest polio victims.

They bring to 74 the number of cases reported in this area since the beginning of the year. No new cases were reported from Up-Island over the week-end.

The two new city cases are a four-year-old girl, admitted to hospital Saturday, and a three-year-old boy, who entered hospital Sunday. The adult case was also reported Sunday.

Sunday's rain was welcomed by those who believe spread of polio is lessened by cooler weather. Doctors, although hopeful, were not making any predictions in this regard.

Young Worker Slams Door, Foils Hold-Up

An attempted hold-up Sunday night at Olson Motors, Yates and Cook, was foiled by the fast action of a 19-year-old attendant, Maurice Vaesen, 373 Arnold.

He told police that at 9:30 p.m. a man opened the office door and demanded to know where the money was.

"This is a hold-up," he said. Vaesen slammed the door in his face knocking him down, and telephoned police. He added that the man ran west on Yates and drove off in a dark sedan.

A police search failed to locate the would-be bandit, described as between 20 and 25, medium height and build, wearing a navy blue raincoat and a brown hat.

SAANICH FIRE CLEARS WAY FOR AIR STRIP

A pillar of smoke which leaped suddenly from the hillside off Bryn Road, a quarter of a mile south of Mount Newton High School, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, brought a deluge of telephone alarms to Central Saanich switchboards.

But the alarm never reached the volunteer firemen of the district and the old and dilapidated two-room shack on the Hillside Fruit Farm property burned to the ground.

The alarm never was intended to be sounded. Claude Butler, Keating Cross Road, new owner of the property, got a fire permit and notified telephone operators that he planned to destroy the place.

He's building a landing strip there for his airplane.

Electric Workers Seek Strike Vote

A joint decision to apply for strike votes among its members employed by the B.C. Electric and Hume & Rumble Ltd. was made on the week-end by Victoria and Vancouver locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.).

The Vancouver local already has mailed its application. Victoria local is expected to follow shortly.

Action followed the refusal of a conciliation board, by majority vote, to recommend the 10 per cent wage increase sought by the union. The board was unanimous in turning down requested holiday benefits.

Of the 140 Victoria men concerned, about 100 are employed by the B.C. Electric, and the remainder by Hume & Rumble.

Drug Case Awaits Trial Instruction

A charge of unlawful possession of drugs laid against an 18-year-old girl and an older youth was remanded in city police court today for the second time.

Instructions from the dominion government for prosecution are necessary, and had not been received at trial time today.

Denis C. O'Brien, 713 Pembroke Street, and Lenora Watson were arrested Friday night. They have not entered pleas.

Bail was declined in view of the fact that O'Brien was on bail from a previous charge of drug possession when he was arrested with the young brunette.

He pleaded not guilty to the former charge last Tuesday.

CBC Governors Reject Bid To Transfer CKDA License

The CBC's board of governors has rejected an application to have CKDA's broadcasting license transferred from David M. Armstrong to Capitol Broadcasting Co., Ltd., Victoria.

The board's decision was handed down today at Winnipeg. The board said it appeared from the wording of the intended agreement a monetary payment for the license was proposed, contrary to the Radio Act of 1938.

The board deferred for further study a request by CKDA to increase its power from 250 watts to 1,000 watts, and to change its position on the dial from 1,340 kilocycles to 730 kilocycles.

Among 20 requests which the board approved was one concerning CJVL. The board gave its consent to have 300 common shares in Island Broadcasting Co., Ltd., transferred on the recommendation that at the end of three years 150 shares be transferred to Taylor, Pearson and Carson be transferred to William Guild, station manager, as provided in an option held by him.

In case this transfer does not take place, approval of the department of transport will be required for the further holding of shares by Taylor, Pearson and Carson.

LAWRENCE WALLACE

L. J. Wallace To Head B.C. Recreation

Lawrence J. Wallace, B.A., M.Ed., director of athletics and student activities at Victoria High School, today was appointed director of the community programs branch of the provincial department of education.

The new adult recreation branch will replace the former Pro-Recreation organization and assist in developing public recreation programs.

Mr. Wallace graduated from UBC in 1938 and subsequently took his master's degree in recreation and leisure-time activities in education.

His graduate studies involved a province-wide survey of recreational practices and facilities for high school youth. He has had wide experience in organizing recreational programs.

He has been at his Victoria High School post for six years. Before coming to Victoria he taught at Alberni and Duncan, and was vice-principal of Duncan High School.

As chairman of the staff war memorial committee, Mr. Wallace played a leading role in organizing the drive that resulted in the erection of the memorial stadium at Victoria High School.

He was chairman of the Olympic Fund Committee and is now a member of the British Empire Games finance committee.

Governor Boots a Good One

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace surprised the opening-day crowd Saturday at Victoria's Canadian football opening by booting the pigskin more than 20 yards. The secret: He played the game at St. Andrew's College, Aurora, Ont., in his younger days. Coat flying, the Governor was caught by Times photographer Irving Strickland just as his toe met the ball. (See Page 8 for story of game).

Rash of Accidents Blamed on Weather

Week-End Traffic Mishaps Send Three Persons to Hospital Here

First wet weather of the season caused a rash of traffic accidents throughout Greater Victoria over the week-end.

Three persons were injured.

A collision between a BCE bus and a car, at the corner of Cook and Yates Street, at 9 a.m. Sunday, resulted in a fractured cheek and left elbow for the driver of the car, J. W. Gillett, 1080 Moss Street.

Jubilee Hospital authorities report his condition as "fairly good."

The bus was undamaged but there was heavy damage to the car.

WOMEN INJURED A two-car collision at 9 p.m. Sunday sent Miss Marjorie McMillan, 160 Passmore, and Miss Betty Miles, 1289 Hampshire, a companion, to Jubilee Hospital.

Miss McMillan was treated for shock and a slight head cut while Miss Miles had to have eight stitches in her right knee. Neither was kept in hospital.

Miss McMillan was driving west on May Street when a car driven by Walter J. Tribe, 291 1/2 Island Highway, skidded when brakes were applied at Moss Street intersection and his car struck the other vehicle on the right side.

A driverless car which slipped its brakes while parked on Blanshard Street near Douglas, rolled down hill at 4 p.m. Sunday morning and suffered heavy damage when it struck a pole at Belleville intersection.

Police report it was owned by P. D. Barter, 3221 Orillia Street.

TRUCK OVERTURNS In Saanich, at 1:30 a.m. Sunday morning, a truck driven by John W. Hitchin, 1955 Kings Road, left the West Saanich Road and travelled a distance of 90 feet on the bank before striking a small tree, a telephone pole and finally overturning.

The driver was unhurt. Charged in police court today with driving while impaired by alcohol, he was fined $250 by magistrate H. C. Hall.

Damage to his truck is estimated at $300.

OVER HIGHWAY BANK At about the same time, a car driven by Miss Hilda M. Harding, Cordova Bay Road, crashed over the bank on the new Pat Bay Highway, causing about $1,000 damage to the vehicle. No one was hurt.

Miss Harding was third in a line of cars when she pulled out to pass. The car ahead pulled out simultaneously and her car was forced off the road, according to police.

At 1:30 a.m. Sunday Donald R. Silcocks escaped injury when his car plunged off the roadway while traveling east on Burnside. The vehicle hit a pole, doing about $300 damage to the car and bringing wires down.

Several minor accidents were recorded in the city early today. Slight damage resulted from a crash at the Roundabout at Douglas and Hillside when an auto driven by W. J. Grainger, 2069 Marjorie Street, collided with another driven by Arne Jensen, 405 Michigan.

A city works department compressor, parked in the centre of Pandora Avenue caused medium damage to a car driven by Glen Owen Smith when he failed to see the obstruction in time to avoid hitting it at 8:30 a.m.

Aged Woman Seeks Shopping Collision Damages by Appeal Eighty-five-year-old Ethel R. Kraus of Seattle fought a judgment of Mr. Justice J. V. Cline dismissing her damage suit for $9,034 against Woodward Stores Ltd. of Vancouver, in a case before Court of Appeal here today.

Mrs. Kraus claimed damage in lower court on the grounds that a sales clerk did not give her the right of way when she was walking along an aisle in the store. They collided with each other with the result that Mrs. Kraus was knocked to the floor and suffered a fractured hip and other injuries.

While a civil jury rendered a verdict in favor of Mrs. Kraus, the trial judge dismissed the action on the grounds there was no evidence of negligence. He set aside the jury's findings.

D. A. Sturdy opened the appeal today. D. McK. Brown of Vancouver represents Woodward Stores.

SIX-YEAR-OLD STRUCK BY CAR

Undetermined injuries were sustained by a six-year-old boy, Steven Weidner, who was struck by a car at noon today.

Driver of the car was not identified. It is thought the youngster was going from school to his home at 564 Dalles Road when the accident occurred.

He was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Tug Distress Call Won't Bring Probe

Department of Transport has decided no investigation will be needed into error made in radio distress calls sent by the tugboat Gulf Islander last Wednesday.

An official said in Ottawa today no action will be taken against the captain, who reportedly gave a wrong position when he asked for aid.

Several Canadian ships, including the destroyer HMCS Crusader, and two U.S. Coast Guard planes searched an area about 10 miles west of Victoria, the position given by the captain. The tug was later found 40 miles southeast of here, with a broken fuel line, and towed into port by Island Tug & Barge Co.'s Island Navigator.

Mining Pioneer's Widow Dies at 90 VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. R. R. Hedley, 90, widow of a pioneer B.C. mining man, died in hospital here Sunday.

The mining town of Hedley was named after Mr. Hedley, who was associated with the old Hall Mines Smelter at Nelson, and was well known throughout the Kootenays. He died in 1940.

Mrs. Hedley is survived by two sons, R. H. Hedley of Vancouver and M. S. Hedley of Victoria, and one daughter, Mrs. C. F. Vater of Vancouver.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Can you tell me if a man who enlisted in the Canadian army in the First World War, 1914-1918, and who has been in Canada since that time, is or is not a Canadian? C.W.G. A.—The Canadian Citizenship Act does not provide that such service by a person of another nationality in this country's military forces automatically made him a Canadian citizen.

Q.—I remember seeing a juvenile opera company in this city about forty years ago. Can you tell me where they appeared? H.W.T. A.—Pollard's Australian Juvenile Opera Company played at the old Victoria Theatre Sept. 9, 10, 11 and 12, 1912. They wound up their visit with Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" on the evening of Sept. 12. Top price was $1 and lowest price was 25 cents.

Q.—What day of the week was Oct. 3, 1922? R.S. A.—Tuesday.

Darn Socks in a Jiffy With Iron-On Patches!

By PENNY SAVER

Always on the lookout for something to make chores a snap... that's me! Great thing is that I've been finding quite a few time savers lately, and here's one I'll pass on to you gals who get a headache every time you think of the pile of hubby's socks... waiting to be darned!

For 29 pennies you can get a packet containing 36 patches for mending those socks. All you have to do is press one on the hole with a warm iron, and the job's done! Patches are made of soft wool and come in a variety of colors.

Designed to save steps for the hostess is a tumbler carrier for 98 cents. Six glasses can be carried at once, safely and easily in the plastic holder. Plastic is available in clear, pink or blue.

Whether your dolly is tiny or baby-size your little girl will be able to outfit her with a pair of new shoes! Made in England, the cutest little dolly shoes you ever saw are made of soft, washable plastic and are sold in colors of pink, blue or white. In all sizes, they range in price from 19 cents a pair to 29 cents a pair.

A tin of milk is an ugly sight to set before the eyes of any guest, yet how convenient it is to punch the tin and use as is! That's why some brilliant inventor thought up the idea of encasing the whole tin of milk in an attractive jug-dispenser. The ivory plastic jugs automatically punch the milk tin when fitted over them, leaving the milk ready to serve. It's even quicker than punching a tin, for this way both holes are punched at once. Price for small jug is 69 cents. Jugs to fit the larger, standard size milk tin are $1.19.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't Kid Yourself, Men, Women Prefer Slim Males

Men know that the feminine sex has always felt under compulsion to be as attractive looking as possible. Many claim that this is a throwback to the days when women were entirely dependent on men for their safety and their living.

Until more recent years life was pretty dreary for most women who did not have a man in theirs, and even now it is much happier with one. However, women's situation in the world has entirely changed.

No doubt this background of dependency may have some influence on the feminine psychology but I think it is just her nature. Anyway, man has come to expect it of her while she has not demanded the same of him. A woman is apt to love her man no matter how he looks but this doesn't mean that she does not recognize an attractive-looking man when she sees one. When she doesn't she will either be dead or really bid. And sometimes, in her inner heart, she may wish that her man looked a little more like the man she married — since he really could. This sentiment is not reserved for men only.

So why not give the little lady a break? While she exercises and diets, perspires and works, brushes her hair and lubricates her skin, studies makeup and hairstyling, wears girdles and high heels, why not drop a few pounds and regain some of that former energy and lean-torsoed look?

You can do it! I am now publishing my "Tubby Hubby Diet" which will give you a loss of from seven to twelve pounds in twelve days' time. Here are tomorrow's menus.

TUESDAY

Breakfast — One cup of orange juice. Generous helping of oatmeal (with cup of skimmed milk and two teaspoons of sugar.) Two pieces of toast, lightly buttered; two pieces bacon; coffee.

Lunch — Two grilled hamburgers. Green salad, lemon juice for dressing. One green or yellow vegetable; one slice of bread or one roll, lightly buttered; one glass of buttermilk or skimmed milk.

Dinner — Clear soup. One helping of lean meat. One-half cup of squash; one cup of string beans; one piece of bread; gelatine, moderate helping; one glass of buttermilk or skimmed milk.

If you would like to have my Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet booklet, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

OLIVE PIZZA

One package hot roll mix, one cup ripe olives, one tablespoon oil, one (6-ounce) can tomato sauce, ½ teaspoon crushed oregano (or basil), four ounces very thinly sliced cooked ham, ¼ cup shredded American cheese, ¼ cup shredded Danish cheese.

Prepare dough from hot roll mix as directed on package. Cover, and let rise in warm place about an hour. Meanwhile cut olives into generous wedges. Turn dough out onto floured board and roll into rectangle as thin as possible. Place dough on greased baking sheet (about 14x17 inches) and pull edges to within ½ inch of edge of sheet. Brush with oil, and spread with tomato sauce. Sprinkle with oregano, olives and ham, cut into one-inch squares. Mix cheese and sprinkle over all. Allow to rise 5 or 10 minutes. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Cut into squares and serve warm.

Try these delicious easy-to-make corn fritters on a menu when you're serving ham. Combine 1 cup cooked whole kernel corn with 2 tablespoons chopped green sweet pepper, ¼ cup chopped ripe olives, salt and pepper to taste and 1 lightly beaten egg. Drop mixture by spoonfuls into hot greased frying pan and brown until crusty on both sides.

PEO Sisterhood Confers

Next week, Oct. 5 to 8, Vancouver will be host to the second biennial conference in British Columbia of the PEO Sisterhood, an organization which, having been started in 1869 by a group of seven girl students at Iowa Wesleyan College, has now grown to comprise more than 115,000 women in 3,100 chapters in six Canadian provinces, 47 states, Hawaii and Alaska.

Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah, international president of PEO and the first Canadian to have served in the capacity, will preside over the conference. First one held in Canada took place in 1941 in Victoria, when Mrs. Scurrah was general chairman.

Furthering the cause of higher education for women has always been the main project of the sisterhood. An educational fund of approximately $867,000 is maintained, through which more than 10,000 young women have been aided in universities and colleges.

Cotley Junior College for Women, at Nevada, Mo., is one of PEO assets. It is the only college on the continent owned and operated by a woman's organization. The physical properties of the college represent an investment of $3,000,000.

Among pre-convention events which Mrs. Scurrah will attend in Vancouver is a dinner for the advance party of board members and trustees, to be held at Capilano Canyon Gardens, Sunday. This will be followed by a reception at Brock Hall, UBC, which will be attended by distinguished visitors and is given in honor of the international president, Mrs. Scurrah.

An opening meeting for educational projects will take place in Georgia Auditorium, Tuesday night. The speaker will be Dr. Blanche Dow, president of Cotley College. A banquet Wednesday night at Hotel Vancouver will be the largest ever staged at that hotel which is preparing

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Christening Gown From England

Brenda Marjorie were the names received by the four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shaw, 579 Transit Road, who was christened by Canon George Biddle in St. John's Church, Sunday. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jagger and Mrs. C. B. Howland, Victoria. The tiny principal wore an heirloom gown of eyelet embroidery, sent from England by her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, Stafford. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert White, 424 Moss Street. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw entertained friends at afternoon tea at their home.

Attend Fahey-McNab Wedding

Out-of-town wedding guests at the marriage of Betty McNab to Richard Fahey, Saturday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. R. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. A. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. L. Cockburn, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mundie, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Umplebee and Miss Jean Umplebee, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gillanders, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fahey, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Fahey, Mr. and Mrs. C. McGeachy and Mrs. A. Ellis, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. O. Wenner and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. Rasmussen and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. K. Gillanders, Nanaimo.

To Celebrate 90th Birthday

Mr. E. L. Hill, 29 Gorge Road East, will be celebrating his 90th birthday tomorrow, and will be "at home" to friends from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. His daughter, Miss Marjorie Hill, will assist in receiving guests.

Mr. Hill was born in Woodstock, Ont., and has lived in Victoria for 17 years. He established the Edmonton Public Library and was chief librarian there for 25 years.

Entertains at Supper Party

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Stegney, 2643 Dalhousie Street, entertained at a buffet supper party Sunday evening to honor Miss Barbara Jones and Mr. Domenick Catanzarite, whose marriage takes place this evening. Supper table was covered with an ivory lace cloth over blue and was centred with a crystal bowl in which floated flowers in shades of pink. Pink and blue candles flanked the bowl. Guests were members of the family and bridal party.

Pianist Returns to City

Miss Nora Halperger, well-known Victoria concert pianist, who has been studying in New York under Bruno Eisner, brilliant German virtuoso teacher, has returned to this city and will reopen her classes in German and pianoforte this week. Before leaving the east, she visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Solimssen, at Martha's Vineyard, Cape Cod.

Register at B.C. House

Among Victorians who have registered at British Columbia House, London, England, recently, are Miss Joan Clements, Mrs. B. Walls, Sir Charles and Lady Wright and Miss Patricia Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holyoak, P.O. W. R. Pringle, RCN, and family and Mr. Allen Vincent-Barwood. Miss Catharine M. Bailey, Port Alberni, has also registered.

'At Home' to Friends

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, 2643 Prior Street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Thursday, with a reception at their home from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening.

Tea Hour Hostess

Mrs. H. I. Mallek entertained at her home, 310 King George Terrace, Sunday afternoon, for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The reception rooms were attractively decorated with autumn flowers and about 70 members of the club were present. Miss Mabel Cameron presided at the tea table, which was covered with a Madeira cloth and centred with creamy chrysanthemums arranged in a crystal bowl. Lighted white candles in crystal holders added a soft radiance to the room.

Here for Wedding

From out-of-town to attend the Keiser-Waters wedding were Mrs. G. Burden, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. F. Harvey, Chemainus; Mr. Harvey Waters, brother of the bride, Portage La Prairie; Mrs. A. Anderson, Mrs. V. Sommerville, Mrs. E. Halversen and Mrs. R. Baker, Vancouver.

Mrs. Gordon Denby, Lansby will visit her mother, Mrs. J. R. Lee, her brother, Mr. Victor Lee, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McAlpine. ## Double-Ring Ceremony in Cathedral Unites Betty McNab, Richard Fahey

A double-ring ceremony of great interest took place in Christ Church Cathedral, Saturday evening, when Mary Elizabeth (Betty) McNab, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. McNab, 2836 Austin Avenue, repeated wedding vows with Richard Edwin Fahey, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Fahey, 29 Beach Drive. Dean P. R. Beattie performed the ceremony in a setting of autumn flowers. Small choir boys sang "Love One Another With a Pure Heart" during the signing of the register. Organist was Graham Steed.

White bridal satin with overskirt of nylon net inset with lace panels formed the gown worn by the attractive bride. Bodice of lace featured a Peter Pan collar embroidered with pearls and bugle beads, pointed waistline and lily point sleeves. Illusion net sprinkled with iridescent stars clouded from her bonnet-shaped headdress of lace and satin trimmed with pearls and lily of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and stephanotis with rosebuds knotted in the satin streamers.

Miss Mary Yole, maid of honor, wore a gown of mauve with bouffant net skirt and bodice and jacket of brocade taffeta. She wore a bandeau of

Elaine Waters Becomes Bride In Saturday Evening Wedding

Fair-haired Elaine May Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Waters, 729 Connaught Street, entered St. John's Anglican Church, Saturday evening on the arm of her father, to become the bride of Alec S. Keiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Keiser, 333 Stewart Avenue, View Royal. Tall baskets of yellow and white gladioli decorated the altar and guest pews were marked with white carnations. During the signing of the register, Miss Marjorie Smythe sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride's gown of traditional white was fashioned in satin with lace and net panelled overskirt. Bodice of Chantilly lace featured a keyhole neckline and lily point sleeves. From a coronet of nylon net and satin set with rhinestones misted her

Toastmistresses Hold Reception

An evening reception with a demonstration program marked the opening of activities for the Victoria Toastmistress Club. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. G. Carr, 3185 Weald Road. A number of guests and prospective members were introduced and were welcomed by Mrs. Georgia Parkes, president. Chairman of the evening was Mrs. Helen Simpson and timer was Miss Rita Rodger.

First-year member, Mrs. Yvette Deveson, "appealed" to her audience, taking as her subject, "Scourge of Humanity." Mrs. Pat McKinley, representing second-year membership, spoke on "Trees Now . . . Lumber When?" using factual material in an after-dinner-type speech. Mrs. Molly Foxall was entertaining with a humorously instructive talk on "Ties." The club winners' speech was given by Mrs. Norma Smith and Miss Grace Mitchell gave the vote of thanks.

Criticisms of the speakers were presented by Mrs. Violet Rayment and Mrs. Vera Carter. Lexicologist, Mrs. Marie Pickell, analysed grammar and vocabulary, and Mrs. Audrey Thompson summed up by evaluating the evening's program. Mrs. Irene Warren, membership convener, outlined aims of the club.

FOR ORPHANAGE

Children of the Protestant Orphanage will benefit from the annual pound party given for them on Thursday, from 3 to 6 p.m. by the women's committee. Mrs. Walter Luney, president, and Mrs. Rita McTavish Hughes will receive guests. Mrs. O. M. Brown will direct choruses sung by the children.

mauve ruffled net and flowers. Sister of the groom, Miss Margaret Fahey, and Miss Eyleen Baird were bridesmaids, wearing similar gowns but with lace jackets, in yellow and blue, respectively. They wore hair bandeaux of yellow and blue ruffled net and flowers. All attendants carried crescent-shaped bouquets of carnations in shades to complement their gowns.

Brother of the groom, Fred Fahey, was best man, and Michael Satterly and Eugene Johnson were ushers.

The reception was held at Olde England Inn, where Mrs. McNab, wearing a turquoise crepe dress with navy accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds, and Mrs. Fahey, wearing a dress of mulberry lace and crepe with black accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds, received guests. Robert Thorne proposed the toast to the bride.

A pair of white doves topped the three-tier wedding cake which centred the bride's table. Dainty pink roses and tulle surrounded the cake and it was flanked by silver candelabra.

A knitted suit of spring green with dark green and brown accessories was worn by Mrs. Fahey for traveling on honeymoon to the mainland and western states. She wore a beige camel hair topcoat and double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Fahey will live at Birkwood Arms Apartments, Southgate Street.

Fall Blossoms Seasonal Note At Annual Tea

Masses of gay autumn flowers decorated the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall Saturday afternoon when the Senior Afternoon Branch of Christ Cathedral WA held their annual fall tea. Guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Claude Gardiner, and Mrs. M. McKenzie.

Tea was served from a table decorated with low crystal bowls of purple dahlias and golden rod, while pastel candles in crystal holders carried out the mauve and yellow color arrangement.

Pouring tea were Mrs. R. Berry, Mrs. R. Felton, Miss Helen Beattie and Miss M. Hocken.

Arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. F. Bowen, assisting her were Mrs. F. Langford, Mrs. G. Howland, Mrs. L. Curtis, Mrs. K. Aitken, Mrs. B. Josephs, Mrs. A. Semple, E. Sigston, Mrs. W. Beard, Mrs. E. M. Gollmer and Misses M. Taylor, C. Kennedy and F. Quiney.

A thriving business was done by the home-cooking and garden produce stall in charge of Mrs. M. Fairclough, assisted by Mrs. R. Dwyer and Miss Ross Jones. Miss N. Sill sold baby woolies and tea tickets were sold by Mrs. C. Courtney. Proceeds from the tea will be used for work of the WA.

For St. Joseph's Auxiliary

Mrs. H. A. Humber is convening the tea and bridge which is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, Wednesday, from 2 to 5, in the Nurses' Home. Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. A. N. Reid, Mrs. Samuel Janowsky and Dr. Paulina Parizeau. Bridge reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Humber at E 2784, or Mrs. J. P. Watson, E 5366. Guests will be received by Mrs. A. Johnson, president of the auxiliary.

Audrey Latham, Ken Higgs Wed in St. Barnabas' Church

Chrysanthemums, dahlias and other fall flowers adorned the altar of St. Barnabas Church, Saturday evening, when Audrey Margaret Latham, daughter of Mrs. B. Latham, 418 Craigflower Road, and Mr. H. Latham, 1601 Comox Road, Vancouver, became the bride of Kenneth Wilkinson Higgs, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Higgs, 2483 Hazel Street. Rev. E. G. Munn officiated. During the signing of the register, Miss Angela Clarke sang "O Perfect Love."

Elizabethan-style bodice of Venetian lace and full skirt of nylon tulle formed the wedding gown of the bride. A crown held her embroidered veil which cascaded into a graceful train and she carried a bouquet of red roses centred with gardenias. Her father gave her in marriage.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Lorna Luney, was matron of honor, gowned in pastel yellow lace and net over taffeta. She carried a cascading bouquet of gladioli. Sister of the groom, Miss Loretta Higgs, was bridesmaid in lilac lace and net over taffeta. She also carried a cascade bouquet of gladioli. Don Higgs was best man for his brother. Ushers were Ray Ramsay and George Savory.

Reception was held in the Continental Room of the Club Sirocco, where a three-tier wedding cake topped with Pincelch roses and encircled with tulle scattered with dahlias centred the bridal table. White candles in silver candelabra flanked the cake. John Latham, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgs are on honeymoon in Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore. For traveling the bride chose an apple

PTA NOTES

James Bay—A welcome tea sponsored by the James Bay PTA was held recently at South Park School. Mrs. C. H. Lowden, president, welcomed the guests and C. A. Michell, principal of South Park School, introduced Miss Dickinson, school nurse; Miss Milne, home economics teacher, and Mr. Hambrook, manual training teacher. Approximately 140 guests attended.

Patricia Bay—Films and a social evening at which parents of pupils may get acquainted will feature first fall meeting of Patricia Bay-McTavish PTA to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Patricia Bay School.

Chlorodont gives you a clean, fresh mouth!

BRUSH AWAY "MORNING MOUTH"!

A leading dental journal reveals that almost everyone's breath is "pungent" and often disagreeable first thing in the morning. That's why your morning toothbrushing is so very important. When you use Chlorodont, you stop "morning breath" instantly . . . and for hours afterward.

Chlorodont is unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Limited.

You'll have a cleaner mouth with Chlorodont! Dentists at a university dental school made 395 comparisons of the cleaning action of leading toothpastes—ammoniated, chlorophyll and regular. Chlorodont's patented cleaning ingredient did the best job of all!

You'll have a fresher mouth with Chlorodont! Scientists made nearly a thousand bad-breath tests on men and women. Compared to a non-chlorophyll toothpaste, Chlorodont kept twice as many people free of mouth odour—even four hours after brushing!

No dentifrice gives you better decay protection than Chlorodont—use after meals. You'll love its lively, minty flavour!

Scalp Conditions Laid to State of General Health

What can be the cause of a hard to keep clean because scalp disorder with big red blotches, white flakes, and itching, asks T.L.C. These go away, he says, but then come back as bad as before.

The most likely explanation for Mr. C's difficulty--which, by the way is also often associated with falling hair--is a condition known as seborrhea.

Seborrhea is commonly divided into two varieties, one, dry seborrhea, or dandruff, and the other, oily seborrhea. Both of these conditions are more common in scalp than elsewhere, but may extend down to the eyebrows, face, and even other parts of the body.

In oily seborrhea, the hair and scalp feel greasy and are associated with the condition.

However, seborrhea of either kind commonly starts after the general health has been lowered by such things as infection or fatigue.

Anemia, constipation, indigestion, lack of fresh air and exercise, and the wearing of still and ill-ventilated hats are also said to contribute.

There is no quick or easy cure for seborrhea. If some chronic, weakening disease is present, it should, of course, be treated.

The local treatment of seborrhea involves first the removal of the crusts and accumulated fatty material and later the use of stimulating applications. The accumulations are soaked with an oil fluid to aid removal. This is followed by thorough and frequent washing with soap and water.

Miraculous Escape Recorded as Blast Wrecks Apartment

MONTREAL (BUP)—Police today credited a "miracle" with saving the lives of several pedestrians when a steam boiler exploded in an apartment with a blast that smashed several dozen windows and blew a small car 15 feet.

Montreal Thieves Get $30,000 Haul In Dairy Robbery

MONTREAL (BUP)—West End Montreal Dairy was robbed of $30,000 in cash and checks during the week-end in what police called the city's biggest robbery in recent years.

Montreal police said entrance to the two-story head office of the dairy was made by smashing a window at the rear.

The same dairy was robbed of $4,500 a year ago and two youthful gunmen were later arrested and sentenced.

The blast Sunday hurled bricks 200 feet. Some of the bricks were found buried two feet deep in the body of the English-made car which was picked up by the blast as it was parked outside the building and tossed 15 feet into a tree.

Nobody was injured by the explosion or the flying bricks. Police Captain Horace Thivierge said, "It's a miracle no one was injured, let alone killed."

St. Luke's Opens New Season With Splash

By Audrey St. D. Johnson
By Peter Blackmore
A most auspicious opening to the amateur theatre season was given Saturday night by St. Luke's Players, when the curtain rose in the parish hall, Cedar Hill Crossroad, on a production that scored in several directions, but particularly as to the choice of so charming a comedy, the well designed and constructed set and artistic lighting.

"Miranda" establishes beyond doubt that a good script pays dividends both on and off stage. A well and tightly written play whose lines bristle with double meanings and which has a whimsical and original turn of plot, presented a challenge to all members of the St. Luke's production team and they have not fallen far short of meeting it.

Direction by Flora Nicholson, assisted by Margaret Martin, has resulted in a light, fast tempo and some pleasing effects. The modern set, perfectly tailored to the tiny stage, is designed by Ann Olsen and constructed by Anthony Nicholson.

When a Harley Street surgeon brings home a seductive, golden-haired mermaid to share his apartment with himself and his wife anything can happen—and plenty does!

Chief acting honors go to the two leading ladies, Maureen Fitzgerald, as the surgeon's attractive wife who feels there is "something fishy" about her husband's mysterious invalid, and Paddy Stewart, who is so attractive a "Miranda" that it is easy to understand the three men laying their hearts at her feet.

Miss Fitzgerald played smoothly, with conviction and a fine comedy flair, building climaxes almost single-handed, for there were occasions when her fellow actors failed to rise with her. She shared with others an inclination to let her vocal level fall to the purely conversational but only now and then. Her characterization had both depth and color.

Harry Harrod's "Sir Paul" was a very competent performance with the correct degree of sophistication and lightness in interpretation.

Blossom Johnston, as the friend who is robbed of her fiancé by the innocent wiles of the mermaid, was well cast and played with vitality. Dorothy House was a convincing nurse and an audible one.

Costumes were good with the exception of one hat which destroyed the effect intended for "Miranda" on one entrance. On the whole grouping and movement in the small playing space were remarkably well managed. The play is to be repeated tonight and tomorrow, at 8.15.

The area of the Antarctic continent is estimated at about 5,000,000 square miles.

ROTARY'S VAUDEVILLE SHOW SCHEDULED FOR NOV. 2 AND 3

Victoria Rotary Club has announced it will again stage the annual presentation "Stars of the Vaudeville Stage." A committee is already working on advance arrangements and the date is set for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 2 and 3, at the Royal Theatre.
Success of previous years has been followed up with the importation of a bill that will include eight quick-action professionals. Comedy, music, songs, and dances, that are different, have been woven into a full program.

German Children Again Learn National Anthem

MAINZ, Germany (Reuters)—All verses of the German National anthem, banned at the end of the Second World War, will be taught to children in the West German state of Rhineland-Palatinate on orders of the state's ministry of culture.

A ministry spokesman said today the anthem, "Deutschland Uber Alles," its history and its meaning will be taught again because parents and teachers have declared their children should know the words.

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UP)—Walter Reuther said here that there are "good" prospects today for a merger between his Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor.

NEW ASTHMA THERAPY SUCCESS

Many sufferers from asthma, bronchial coughs and coughing fits claim greater, longer lasting relief from Respatone formula, compounded by British Chemists. A unique ingredient contained only in Respatone, gives anti-spasmodic, anti-pyretic and analgesic action. Many cases report speedy, almost-instant relief. Change today. Respatone. In easy assimilable tablets, at all drug stores, three sizes.

Double Will Stand Trial for Beria Says U.S. Report

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP)—Col. Ullo Amoss, head of a private intelligence agency, has reported receiving information that Lavrenti P. Beria has definitely escaped from Russia.

Officials in Washington, however, remain extremely skeptical. They believe that the deposed Soviet security chief and No. 2 Communist is either in prison or dead.

Amoss, formerly with the wartime office of strategic services, said that he has received a message from his agents abroad confirming earlier rumors that Beria had fled the Soviet Union when he realized his colleagues in the Kremlin were about to purge him.

He said his sources also told him the escapee upset plans for a secret trial and that the Communists now are training a "double" who will be passed off in public trial as Beria. Amoss added that he believes the reports to be true.

Glassblower Provides Menagerie

Finding necessary props for each week's new play at Totem Theatre is quite a job in itself. Sometimes, when usual sources are unable to supply needs of theatre, props have to be specially made. Such was the case when it came to obtaining a collection of glass animals for Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie," which opens tonight. John Lees, of UBC, who spends most of his time making glass equipment for physics lab, came through with some fancy blowing to produce animal-like forms. Thor Arngren, co-producer at Totem who takes leading role in current play, was interested spectator. Tonight's presentation is for Community Chest workers.

Headless Valley Majestic Dream World

Legends of Weird Rites, Mysterious Deaths
Ripped Aside by Explorers; Has One Resident

NAHANNI-VALLEY, N.W.T. (BUP)—The legends of Nahanni Valley—where strange Indians conducted weird rites, hot springs nourished tropical foliage, and mysterious deaths went unsolved—were ripped aside today by a group of intrepid explorers.

The valley, better known as Headless Valley, lies locked behind a mountain range in the southwest corner of the Northwest Territories, between the Yukon and British Columbia.

Nahanni Valley gave up its secrets this summer after geologists, army surveyors, a writer, a photographer, and a parks superintendent from Edmonton, Alta., visited the regions.

They saw "a dream world majestic and entrancing" in a fertile valley nearly 200 miles long which contained one white resident.

The Nahanni River, a fast but shallow stream, flows through two canyons in the valley, one of them 3,000 feet high. Its spectacular scenic attractions include Virginia Falls, with a drop of nearly 316 feet.

Notorious for its unsolved murders, which gave Nahanni its "Headless Valley" title, 10 persons have died mysteriously there in the past 48 years. Three men were shot by outlaws and beheaded by wolves. Seven others, including one woman, met death by misadventure.

The only white man in the valley, Chicago-born Gustave Kraus, who has an Indian wife, has been in the Nahanni since 1934. The last city he saw was Regina, Sask.

NEVER COMING OUT
"I'm never coming out," he said, "not unless I make a million and can live in style."

Because of a few hot springs in the valley, vegetation is lush and gardens thrive.

Kraus said he left some small potatoes in the ground one fall, and was amazed when he noticed small potato plants peeping above the earth next spring. They had not frozen during the winter, in a land 250 miles north of the Peace River.

He said he dug a root cellar for his vegetables the next winter, but it was never cool enough to keep them. Even in mid-winter, the temperature inside was 76 degrees.

Kraus now lives at the confluence of the Nahanni and the Laird Rivers, about 35 miles downstream from the hot springs.

"I had to leave," he explained. "I couldn't keep my vegetables from spoiling."

There is no death

"For many years," says Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, "I have been recording a series of incidents which bear out the conviction that life, not death, is the basic principle of our universe."

October Reader's Digest brings you a condensed excerpt from Dr. Peale's best-seller, "The Power of Positive Thinking." The famed religious leader tells why he profoundly believes there are two sides to the phenomenon known as death: this side where we now live, and the other side where we shall continue to live.

Get your October Reader's Digest today: 45 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines and current books.

Negotiations to End Strike At Seattle Times Collapse

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle Times management reported Saturday a breakdown in negotiations with the Seattle News paper Guild (CIO) in the strike that has closed this city's only afternoon newspaper since July 16.

The major issue is over the amount of wage increases. The management statement asserted that "the negotiations through the federal mediation service have apparently

Pains, distress of "those days" halted or strikingly relieved

in 3 out of 4 cases in test by doctors!

• Here's wonderful news for women and girls who—each month—suffer the tortures of "bad days" of functionally-caused menstrual cramps and pain—headaches, backaches, and those "no-good," dragged-out feelings.

It's news about a medicine well-known for relieving such suffering!

Here is the exciting news. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—gave complete or striking relief of such distress in an average of 3 out of 4 of the cases in doctors' tests!

Yes! Lydia Pinkham's is scientifically modern in action!

Thousands benefited!

This news will not surprise the thousands of women and girls who know the relief Lydia Pinkham's can bring.

And it should encourage you to see if your experience doesn't match theirs... to see if you, too,

Now Lydia Pinkham's works. It has a "calming" and soothing effect on the uterus... quieting the contractions (see the chart) that so often cause menstrual pain, cramps, other distress.

don't avoid the nervousness, tension, weakness, irritability, and pain—so often associated with "those days!"

Try Lydia Pinkham's Compound... or new, improved Tablets (with added iron).

Both are grand, too—for those "hot flashes" and other distresses common to "change of life!"

THE CRITICS PRAISE IT...

"Dr. Cronin paints his picture in strong contrasts—of sick and poor, of virtue and villainy, with action, suspense and good pace." (Toronto Daily Star)

"One of the best attention-holding works this versatile writer has ever penned. You will read it, enjoy it, and never forget it. It is Cronin at his best." (Windsor Star)

NUMBER ONE BEST-SELLER...

Everybody's reading it... That's where enthusiastic public reaction has placed this great story of a son who fights for his father's life.

Toronto Gunmen Take $10,000

TORONTO (BUP)—Two bandits wearing sun glasses robbed a meat packinghouse of $10,000 today, police reported.

The gunmen walked into the office of Quality Meat Packers only five minutes after thousands of dollars in week-end receipts had been turned in.

One of the gunmen covered office employees with a gun, while his accomplice cleaned out an open safe of its money contents. However, he overlooked $20,000.

300 Search for Prince George Boy

PRINCE GEORGE (BUP)—Nearly 300 persons were out today searching for Ronald Aspinall, four, missing since Friday.

Private planes and three boats have searched the rivers and streams around the city under the direction of the RCMP to no avail.

South Korea Would Renew War

SEOUL (Reuters)—South Korea tonight renewed its call for resumption of the Korean war if the political conference fails.

Acting Foreign Minister Chun Cho told the National Assembly that if the Korean conference does not settle the peninsula's future, "there will be no alternative but war."

SOMETHING NEW IN COMIC STRIPS BEGINS TODAY

A fascinating new comic strip of science adventure, "Jet Scott," starts in the Times today.

Instead of the weird and unworldly space trips of other science strips, this one deals factually with actual instruments and discoveries that have already been made by the world's great scientists. Start "Jet Scott" on Page 16 today.

Churchill to Retain Prime Minister Post

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued a special statement today asserting that he has carried on with his job ever since he became ill last June and indicating that he intends to remain in office for the foreseeable future.

Churchill emphasized that he has never backed down from his call for a meeting of Big Four chiefs of state on world issues, a meeting which, he is known to feel, might crown his long career by lessening West-East tension.

Churchill's statement followed a demand made by Labor leftist Aneurin Bevan Sunday night at Margate demanding that if Churchill "is unable to do his duty, he should resign."

Churchill's statement was issued at No. 10 Downing Street, his official residence, on his order sent from the Riviera, where he is ending a vacation after the rest his physicians urged him to take last June 27.

"Churchill has not ceased at any time to hold and exercise the responsibility belonging to the office of prime minister," the statement said. While he has been vacationing abroad, it added, he has been "consulted on every decision of policy and is in full agreement with what is being done in the circumstances which prevail."

BUSH PILOTS MAKE $1 MILLION ORE FIND

AGED MAN SAVED IN MALAHAT FIRE

Six Escape as Blaze Follows Blast on Well-Known 'Lookout'

Five persons escaped without injury, and an aged man was rescued by two passing motorists, when fire, followed by an explosion, destroyed the Island Highway's well-known Malahat Lookout early Sunday.

Bart Fletcher, proprietor, and five members of his family and staff scrambled or were pulled through windows to safety before the furiously blazing building collapsed and gas storage tanks blew up and burst through the walls.

Louis Holker, 2535 Killarney, and Eric Driver, delivery man for Page the Cleaner Ltd., both of Victoria, are credited with saving the life of 88-year-old Frank Braine. The man was sleeping in the service station adjoining the main property. It, too, was destroyed.

Mr. Braine, father of the wife of the proprietor, was still inside the service station when gasoline hoses connected to a pair of pumps exploded from the intense heat. Mr. Holker and Mr. Driver, who had been driving past the fire scene and who stopped when they saw the flames, learned Mr. Braine was still in danger.

Without hesitation they dived through the fire and into the quarters. Mr. Braine occupied the door and clazed old man, bare footed and clad only in pyjamas, was wrapped in a blanket and sheltered in an automobile.

Neighbors and firefighters of the Langford volunteer group gave what help they could, but the fire was beyond control from the time of its discovery. Besides the car, a television set and a few armloads of clothing were all that could be saved.

Sell Quebec Claims To Iron Ore Company

MONT JOLI, Que. (CP)—Two Quebec bush pilots have sold for "more than $1,000,000," claims to iron ore deposits discovered while flying over rugged country in northeastern Quebec.

Capt. Paul Lapointe of Rimouski said today he and his co-pilot, Bill Awater, have sold their claims to the Iron Ore Company of Canada. Discovery of the deposits was announced Sept. 25 by Premier Duplessis.

Lapointe, 31-year-old chief pilot of Quebecair Incorporated, said the ore deposit, 80 miles north of Havre St. Pierre, was discovered on a flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Mont Joli.

"Our plane compass went screwy and we figured there was some iron ore down there," he said.

Lapointe said he and Awater rented a pontoon-equipped seaplane and flew out to the spot, 400 miles east of Quebec City, to pick some samples.

Premier Duplessis said Friday the area has an estimated 50,000,000 tons of high-grade ore. Lapointe says "there is much more than that."

$150 CROSSWORD PAGE 20

Lapointe said the discovery goes back to the end of July. He and Awater got to work promptly trying to establish how big the ore deposit was and began negotiations with Iron Ore Company after staking out a total of 20 claims covering 400 acres.

The money to be paid by Iron Ore Company of Canada over a period of 27 years, will be shared with Dr. Steve Maleher, sick of Montreal, a Hungarian-born geologist, who was called in by the fliers when "we needed someone with experience."

Iron Ore Company of Canada is the concern which already has mining concessions in the deposits.

FIRST FALL STORM DOES LITTLE HARM

Victoria's first autumn storm Sunday spilled more water on parched gardens than had fallen in the previous 13 weeks, but otherwise did little damage.

The downpour was followed by a wind that reached a peak of 48 miles an hour between midnight and 1 a.m. today, and up to 54 miles an hour in gusts.

A total of 1.10 inches of rain fell between 4 a.m. Sunday and 4 a.m. today, according to weatherman William Mackie.

Between July 1 and Sept. 26, the rainfall total was 1.07 inches, he said.

Most of the rain occurred between 7:30 and 9:30 Sunday evening.

BOATS SWAMPED

SEATTLE (AP)—A storm with winds up to 50 miles an hour lashed most of western Washington State Sunday night, toppling telephone lines and trees and swamping two fishing boats.

In Seattle, city light officials ordered every available man back on the job to repair downed poles and wires. Whole sections of the city were blacked out when winds ripped down a number of 4,500-volt feeder lines.

QUEEN'S PLANE 'TALKED DOWN' THROUGH FOG

LONDON (AP)—The Queen flew back to fog and rain-swept London Sunday from her summer holiday in Scotland.

Her twin-engined Silver Viking was brought down to the airport by ground control approach. The craft's movements were watched on a radar screen and her pilot talked down through the overcast to the runway approach.

Large crowds braved the rain to cheer the Queen who arrived after the worst of a heavy fog had cleared.

The Queen returned to deal with details of preparations for the forthcoming Commonwealth tour which she will undertake with the Duke of Edinburgh. Other members of the Royal Family are still in Balmoral Castle.

Churchill to Stick Prime Minister Post

Illness Never Made Him Relinquish Work
PM Says in Reply to Bevan's Demand He Quit

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued a special statement today asserting that he has carried on with his job ever since he became ill last June and indicating that he intends to remain in office for the foreseeable future.

Churchill emphasized that he has never backed down from his call for a meeting of Big Four chiefs of state on world issues—a meeting which, he is known to feel, might crown his long career by lessening West-East tension.

Churchill's statement followed a demand made by Labor leader Aneurin Bevan Sunday night at Margate demanding that if Churchill is "unable to do his duty, he should resign."

Churchill's statement was issued at No. 10 Downing Street, his official residence, on his return from the Riviera, where he is ending a vacation after the rest his physicians urged him to take last June 27.

Churchill has not "ceased at any time to hold and exercise the responsibility, belonging to the office of prime minister," the statement said. While he has been vacationing abroad, it added, he has been "consulted on every decision of policy and is in full agreement with what is being done in the circumstances which prevail."

The immediate occasion for Churchill's statement was a speech made Saturday by Labor member of the House of Commons Tom O'Brien, after returning from a Riviera talk with the prime minister.

O'Brien said the cancellation of the Bermuda conference of western chiefs of state, for which Churchill was to sail at the time he became ill, was due not so much to the illness as to the "intolerable pessimism" of his own advisers and American reluctance.

Churchill's statement said his conversation with O'Brien remains private. But, it emphasized, "the minister has in no way changed his mind about the proposals contained in his speech of May 11." In this speech, he urged a Big Four conference.

READY FOR MOSCOW
NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE (AP)—A top British labor leader who had lunch with Prime Minister Churchill a few days ago said Saturday night that Churchill is "quite ready to go even to Moscow" in his quest for peace.

Tom O'Brien, past president of the Trade Union Congress—central body of British labor movement—and a moderate Labor member of parliament, told a labor union meeting: "I can assure the British people that the prime minister has not dropped his plans for his four-power talk, he will not drop them, and he intends vigorously to pursue them, and he is quite ready to go even to Moscow. But he cannot battle against American reluctance on the one hand and Russian reticence on the other alone."

U.S. Plane Wreck Found in Pyrenees; 4 Crewmen Dead

PERPIGNAN, France (UP)—A rescue team reported today that it found the wreckage of a missing American air force plane near the top of a 7,500-foot peak in the Pyrenees Mountains and that all four of its crewmen were killed.

The plane had been missing since Saturday with its crew of two officers and two enlisted men. Rescuers reported that it was shattered in hitting the peak in the desolate Pyrenees that form the border between France and Spain.

The plane disappeared on a flight from Burtonwood, Eng., land, to Barcelona, Spain. It was scheduled to pick up an American baseball team and basketball team that had been playing exhibition games in Spain.

FIRST FALL STORM DOES LITTLE HARM

Victoria Escapes Main Gale; Power Breaks Suffered in Vancouver, U.S. Coastal Points

Victoria's first autumn storm Sunday spilled more water on parched gardens than had fallen in the previous 13 weeks, but otherwise did little damage.

The downpour was followed by a wind that reached a peak of 48 miles an hour between midnight and 1 a.m. today, and up to 54 miles an hour in gusts.

A total of 1.10 inches of rain fell between 4 a.m. Sunday and 4 a.m. today, according to weatherman William Mackie.

Between July 1 and Sept. 26, the rainfall total was 1.07 inches, he said.

Most of the rain occurred between 7:30 and 9:30 Sunday evening.

VANCOUVER HIT
VANCOUVER (CP)—The winter season's first wind and rain storm hit the Lower Mainland Sunday, disrupting power facilities and bus schedules.

The storm, coming on the heels of day-long rains, caused power failures from West Vancouver to upper valley points.

A falling tree broke a power cable in the Glen Eagles district of West Vancouver.

Fourteen repair crews of the B.C. Electric Company worked to restore lines throughout Vancouver late Sunday.

Traffic police were busy during the storm as several traffic lights were blown down and trees and fences were strewn on streets.

BOATS SWAMPED
SEATTLE (AP)—A storm with winds up to 50 miles an hour lashed most of western Washington State Sunday night, toppling telephone lines and trees and swamping two fishing boats.

The Nada went down near the mouth of the Elwha River on the Olympic Peninsula. Her owner, Tom Brathun, the only man aboard, was taken off safely.

Lester A. Fairbrother, Port Angeles, Wash., was taken off his salmon trawler when it foundered near the Swiftrite lightship at the entrance to Puget Sound.

In Seattle, city light officials ordered every available man back on the job to repair felled poles and wires. Whole sections of the city were blacked out when winds ripped down a number of 4,400-volt feeder lines.

Tracks Mined Near Nelson, Say RCMP
NELSON, B.C. (BUP)—Thirty-one sticks of dynamite, believed planted by Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, were found at Taghum, near here, Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today.

Some 14 sticks were found under railway tracks by three youths and another 17 sticks were found near a power pole in an open field nearby.

35 Violent Deaths Recorded in Canada
TORONTO (CP)—Thirty-five violent deaths were reported throughout Canada during the week-end, 11 of them occurring in Ontario, nine in Quebec province, 10 on the prairies and five in B.C.

SIU STRIKES DEEPSEA SHIPPING

Island Inter-Coastal Service Will Cease

MONTREAL (CP)—Members of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TLC), went on strike at noon today on Canadian deepsea ships.

There was no trouble reported as crews walked off two ships in Montreal.

Capt. J. E. Matheson, superintendent of the Shipping Federation of Canada, said there are six flag ships in the Gulf of St. Lawrence which will be affected. About 30 ships in all will be affected.

The shipping federation was notified of the strike deadline Friday and a meeting held Sunday failed to settle the dispute.

Capt. Matheson said he does not know whether Canadian flag ships in foreign ports will be affected.

Shipping federation and union spokesmen declined to give details of the dispute.

AVERTED A WEEK AGO
Just a week ago a dispute between the SIU and four Canadian lake shipping companies was settled and a strike averted.

The settlement was made by Arthur MacNamara, former deputy minister of labor, appointed a special mediator in the dispute.

The companies involved were Colonial Steamship Lines, Canada Steamship Lines, N. M. Peterson and Sons, and Upper Lake and St. Lawrence Transportation Ltd.

No Canadian ships manned by SIU crews are in Vancouver Island ports today.

Main effect of the strike on island ports will be the cessation of Saguenay terminals inter-coastal service, which has been operating on a fortnightly basis for the past year.

EDMONTON (CP)—The first substantial snowfall of the season in western Canada was reported today in the British Columbia section of the Peace River block.

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—Robert R. Yockety, 17, was scheduled to appear in the Supreme Court today charged with the knife murder of a youth his own age last May 12.

Police said Yockety killed Brian Snell in a fight over a girl.

Drops 13 Storeys
NEW YORK (AP)—Ignoring pleas not to jump, a middle-aged woman hurtled 13 storeys to death today from a fashionable midtown apartment house.

OTTAWA (CP)—Building of additional quarters at B.C. penitentiary to accommodate Sons of Freedom Doukhobors was reported today to be under consideration in Ottawa.

However, no decision was likely until after Friday, when 89 nude paraders remanded until then for probationary reports, learn their fate.

So far, 45 Sons have been sentenced to three years in penitentiary. Of these, 35 are men destined to the B.C. institution and 10 are women who will go to Kingston, Ont.

Under federal law, only one prisoner is allowed in each cell of a federal institution and the B.C. penitentiary already has 530 of its 550 cells filled.

Commenting on a newspaper photo showing Ava and the soldier together, the Mail says her "obvious intention was to disturb the soldier's composure."

Had the sentry moved from his rock-like stance or batted an eyelid at the glamorous star he would have been hauled off to the guardhouse.

"Did she not know he was doing his job, and a very difficult one, too?" asked the Mail.

"What would she say if some intruder pranced up and gave her the 'glad eye' during a trying sequence on the set?"

"The episode was a breach of good sense and good manners."

John Dayton, who was a companion of Mr. Holker and the two Holker boys, raced by automobile to find a telephone to give the long-delayed alarm.

Meanwhile, Mr. Driver had fought his way through choking smoke to the Lookout telephone. The connection was burned out before he could make his call.

"He certainly had grit, going in there," Mr. Holker said.

Fire discovered at 2.30 a.m.

Mr. Fletcher said he discovered the fire at about 2.30 a.m. He roused Mrs. Fletcher, Miss Arlene Fortin, a waitress, and Miss Eleanor Gonia, the cook.

Then he raced to an adjoining cabin to warm his 16-year-old son.

Another waitress, Miss Yvette Genereux, was away at the time.

Smoke was so thick, Mr. Fletcher said, it was almost impossible to save anything from the main building or even to reach the telephone to call for aid.

"Everything I own is gone," he said.

He estimated his loss at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Fletcher only took over the Malahat operation 10 months ago, on his arrival here from Australia.

A dog, a budgie bird and a gold fish were carried to safety by passers-by and the household cat, thought to have perished, appeared later, singed and scared, but otherwise unharmed.

RCMP constable Cliff Barriger told how Holker and a companion, returning to Victoria from Nanaimo, fought their way into the garage to rescue the aged man.

Mr. Fletcher was still at the scene long after daybreak Sunday. He stayed to watch sightseers from the vicinity of unexploded gasoline storage tanks.

Smoke still poured from the ruins. All that remains are several brick chimneys and the front porch.

Cash, Liquor Stolen From Trail Golf Club
TRAIL (CP)—Burglars escaped with between $500 and $600 in cash and 16 bottles of liquor early today in a break-in at Rossland-Trail Golf Club here.

Creative Arts Are Important In Kyoto, Centre of Culture

Miss Elizabeth Forbes, women's editor of the Victoria Daily Times, is visiting Japan as guest of their Excellencies Hon. R. W. and Mrs. Mayhew at the Canadian Embassy in Tokyo. This is one of a series of articles describing her experiences and impressions.

By BESSIE FORBES
In Kyoto, centre of Japan's culture and history, men still believe that creative art ranks high in life's scheme of things.

In Kyoto, men still work with their hands to create beauty of line and design and time means little—when heads are bent low over intricate patterns.

Find the street of the weavers, the lane where the Damascene artists work, the narrow road where the potter's wheel spins, and the attic rooms where cloisonné

A dog, a budgie bird and a gold fish were carried to safety by passers-by and the household cat, thought to have perished, appeared later, singed and scared, but otherwise unharmed.

RCMP constable Cliff Barriger told how Holker and a companion, returning to Victoria from Nanaimo, fought their way into the garage to rescue the aged man.

Mr. Fletcher was still at the scene long after daybreak Sunday. He stayed to watch sightseers from the vicinity of unexploded gasoline storage tanks.

Smoke still poured from the ruins. All that remains are several brick chimneys and the front porch.

Cash, Liquor Stolen From Trail Golf Club
TRAIL (CP)—Burglars escaped with between $500 and $600 in cash and 16 bottles of liquor early today in a break-in at Rossland-Trail Golf Club here.

RCMP said the safe was recovered on the golf course. It had been "expertly punched."

WITH BESSIE IN JAPAN

Creative Arts Are Important In Kyoto, Centre of Culture

Miss Elizabeth Forbes, women's editor of the Victoria Daily Times, is visiting Japan as guest of their Excellencies Hon. R. W. and Mrs. Mayhew at the Canadian Embassy in Tokyo. This is one of a series of articles describing her experiences and impressions.

By BESSIE FORBES
In Kyoto, centre of Japan's culture and history, men still believe that creative art ranks high in life's scheme of things.

In Kyoto, men still work with their hands to create beauty of line and design and time means little—when heads are bent low over intricate patterns.

Find the street of the weavers, the lane where the Damascene artists work, the narrow road where the potter's wheel spins, and the attic rooms where cloisonné patterns are born, and you will soon realize the truth of these things.

On the street of the weavers you wander slowly, looking in at the open doorways to glimpse bare, brown feet treading at the looms and to catch the faint scratch of finger nails, specially filed and cut to fashion beauty from shining silk threads; until you come to an open gateway that marks a small factory; then because you are escorted by an elderly Japanese woman who has been told to say you are a Canadian, you find the door opened to you and a slim young man named Shinji Fukuyama, ready to show you the looms.

He is not the owner he tells you, nor the proprietor, merely a very young member of the firm who wishes to practice his English. In the first room you enter you find a score or more apprentices starting the first steps of finger weaving, working at small looms, with an experienced weaver in their midst. They are allowed to show their adaptability by making anything they wish, but the method must be strictly followed—working from the wrong side and with the patterns placed underneath in such a way that only one thread may be followed at a time.

If a young apprentice shows talent and perhaps creates an original design, the factory may honor him by using the design.

And this would be something of which to be very proud, Shinji assured us.

LONG APPRENTICESHIP
Apprenticeship is for five years. At the end of that time the factory will supply a good

LOUIS HOLKER
... in hero's role

Mr. Holker himself, RCMP officers said later, risked his life to save Mr. Braine.

He battered in the panel of the door where the 88-year-old had his sleeping quarters, reached in and unlocked the door. The dazed old man, bare footed and clad only in pajamas, was wrapped in a blanket and sheltered in an automobile.

Neighbors and firefighters of the Langford volunteer group gave what help they could, but the fire was beyond control from the time of its discovery.

Besides the car, a television set and a few armloads of clothing were all that could be saved.

The fire was fanned by a lively wind.

Heat was so intense window glass was melted.

Lunch counter stools, their tops burned off, lay in a line where they had fallen through the floor.

Tubular steel chairs looked like charred spaghetti.

The skeleton of a cash register lay next to the remains of a blackened refrigerator.

Nothing of value existed.

Mr. Fletcher said all the cash was lost too.

"I haven't a cent, not even my shoes... my son has a dollar in his pocket."

The fire was the second to occur on the same site. In 1928, the Hamsterly Malahat, a mountain guest lodge, burned to the ground. It was rebuilt by Robert W. Buller, owner at that time, and was christened the Malahat Lookout.
